

Automobile Leaves Highway, Kills Boy Standing In Grass

Costenbader Boy Killed; Driver Held

Little Gap — A four-year-old Kunkletown RD2 boy was injured fatally while at play here late yesterday when an out-of-control automobile left the highway and bore down upon him as he stood in a grassy strip between the highway and a field fence.

State police of the Lehighton substation said the youngster, David Costenbader, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Costenbader, was dead on arrival at Palmerton hospital.

The lad received fractures of the right leg and left arm, possible brain injuries, severe head lacerations and a crushed chest.

Carbon county coroner Harry Doll of East Mauch Chunk, viewed the body of the victim last night and said that he will conduct an inquest at a later date.

Meantime, Pfc. Herbert Sohns, investigating trooper, arrested Emmett Serfass, of 1537 Washington St., Easton, and charged him with involuntary manslaughter.

Serfass, a 63-year-old railroad dispatcher, was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Howard LaFaw, of Little Gap, where he waived preliminary hearing pending action by the Carbon county court.

Trooper Sohns said the accident occurred at 5:15 p.m. as the Costenbader lad and other children played near their homes on the Little Gap-Danielsville road in Lower Townwaming township.

The Costenbader home is only 100 yards from the point where the Serfass car went off the road on a curve at the site of the Theodore Chopchinski home.

Serfass told the troopers that he pulled far to the right as he entered the curve to give an approaching vehicle clearance. He swung right too far, however, and the car left the road, bouncing across the green strip where the children were playing, hitting the fence and then crushing the Costenbader lad.

The wheels of the vehicle missed the boy, but the undercarriage scraped and cut him and rolled him over.

Serfass and four women riding with him were unhurt. The passengers were identified as the driver's wife, Mrs. Emmett Serfass, Joan Dunbar, Carolyn Dunbar and Mrs. Irene Adams, all of Easton.

Trooper Sohns said another small boy, Kenneth Cristman, of Parryville, who is visiting relatives at Little Gap, witnessed the accident as he rode his bicycle up the road to the point where the Costenbader lad was playing.

Palmerton ambulance rushed the victim to the hospital. Police said he was one of two children, being survived by his parents and a 14-year-old sister.

British Seek Injunction

The Hague, The Netherlands, (AP) — Britain sent a King's messenger to the World court yesterday with a request for temporary measures to protect the Anglo-Iranian Oil company's rights in Iran.

Britain is seeking what amounts to an injunction against Iran. But Iran has declared the court has no jurisdiction in the case.

British RAF squadrons in the Suez canal zone were reported standing by, ready to take off at a moment's notice, as Iran made preparations apparently aimed at enforcing her nationalization law over the billion-dollar British-owned company.

The U. S. State department declared Russia was exploiting the oil nationalization dispute for the purpose of maneuvering her small neighbor "back of the iron curtain."

The company, through a British embassy spokesman at Tehran, warned the Iranian government the giant Abadan refinery might be forced to shut down because of "mass resignations" of British technicians.

Superintendent Of Police Suspended

Pittsburgh (AP) — Police Superintendent Harvey Scott was suspended yesterday after Judge Sara Soffel accused him of being drunk and belligerent during his appearance at a special grand jury hearing.

John Brislin Buys 18-Room Reenleigh Hotel At Water Gap; New Name To Be Laurel Lodge

Sale of the 18-room Reenleigh hotel building in Delaware Water Gap to John A. Brislin, of Stroud township, was disclosed here late yesterday when a deed for the transaction was placed on file at Monroe county court house.

Britain Bars Water Babies

London (AP) — Florida water babies Bubba Tongay, five, and his sister Kathy, four, were tucked into a suburban hotel bed last night under technical arrest.

That's as near as they'll get, British officials indicated, to the English channel — at any rate from this side.

The children and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Tongay of Miami, Fla., were barred entry into Britain by immigration authorities at London airport following widespread protests over the Tongays' plans to send the two youngsters on a channel swim.

They were allowed to land under "technical custody," however, and spend the night in a nearby hotel. Immigration officials said this relaxation in the regulations was made because Mrs. Tongay and the children were tired after their flight from New York.

The officials announced the family will be put on a New York bound plane today. They gave no reason for the ban except that it was made under the aliens order—which gives wide powers to refuse entry to foreigners.

The announcement that a British holiday camp firm had sponsored a channel swim for the two Tongay kids led to widespread protests in both America and Britain. Home Secretary Chuter Ede was asked in the Commons to bar the family, but he gave no such pledge at the time.

Crowds of newsmen greeted the Tongays' plane.

They were the last to alight. Kathy in a blue dress and Bubba, in yellow shirt with a cowboy holster at his waist, grinned happily.

Tongay, in royal blue trousers and gaily colored sports shirt worn outside his pants, posed with his family for photographers.

Girl Killed In Auto Accident

Bloomburg (AP) — Sixteen-year-old Marie Young of Benton died yesterday at Bloomburg hospital, the victim of an automobile accident.

Miss Young was injured fatally and two companions less seriously hurt when the car in which they were riding went out of control as they were on their way to a dance Thursday.

Miss Young's brother, Donald, 18, escaped injury, but James Miller, 18, and Joan Hartman, 15, were taken to the hospital, where their injuries were reported as not serious.

Gen. Ridgway Supported Mac

Washington (AP) — An official message disclosed yesterday that Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway supported Gen. Douglas MacArthur last December in urging an immediate invasion of Red China by Chinese Nationalist troops based on Formosa.

It was for publicly advocating this step—along with a naval blockade of China and the bombing of enemy bases in Manchuria—that President Truman fired General MacArthur last April 11.

General Ridgway at the time was field commander in Korea.

Senator Knowland (R-Calif.) put the Ridgway message into the record at the Senate inquiry looking into the dismissal of MacArthur and the whole broad range of the administration's Far East policies.

Ridgway said he and General MacArthur agreed that Nationalist forces under Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek should be permitted "to operate without delay and without limitation against the mainland of South China."

The Nationalists have been "neutralized" on Formosa since last June 26 when President Truman dispatched the U.S. Seventh Fleet to guard the island from invasion by Chinese Reds and to prevent the Nationalists from invading the China mainland.

Formosa lies 100 miles off the China coast.

In another development at yesterday's inquiry, Senator Wiley (R-Wis.) charged in effect that Mr. Truman's "neutralizing" order led to the entry of Red China into the Korean war.

Wiley said that after the President "announced our policy of blockading Formosa and blockading China, the best Chinese (Communist) armies were moved up north and went into conflict in Korea against our troops."

Crime Probers Summon Warren To Washington

Miami, Fla., (AP) — Senate crime probers subpoenaed Gov. Fuller Warren to appear before them in Washington July 9 to tell what he knows about Florida's crime and whether gamblers contributed to his election.

The announcement came at the end of a two-day hearing of the Senate Crime committee here, and touched off a cheering demonstration by spectators.

It was the first time a state chief executive has been summoned for a mandatory appearance according to committee officials. Warren declined an invitation to appear at the Miami hearing which ended with the handing of the subpoena to Deputy U. S. Marshal Jack L. Peoples for service on the governor.

In Tallahassee, the governor was reported still resting at a "famous beach" but his office refused any other clue to his whereabouts. Nor would his staff hazard a guess whether he would choose to honor the subpoena and appear in Washington.

Referred To Senate

Washington (AP) — The Senate Banking committee, split over the future of the Reconstruction Finance Corp., put the question of its survival up to the full Senate yesterday.

Archbishop Confesses Armed Plot

Budapest, Hungary, (AP) — Archbishop Jozsef Groesz and three of his associates poured out hours-long confessions at the opening of their trial yesterday on charges that they plotted with American help to overthrow Hungary's Communist regime by armed revolt.

The 64-year-old archbishop, successor of Cardinal Mindszenty as head of the Roman Catholic church in Hungary, and eight co-defendants went on trial in the same courtroom and before the same presiding judge and prosecutor who tried the cardinal and American businessman Robert A. Vogeler.

The trial is before a court of first instance for capital crimes. With deliberate calm, Archbishop Groesz testified he gave the American legation a written promise he was willing to become the new chief of state in Hungary and even submitted to the Americans a list of men he proposed to take into his government.

His three co-defendants who admitted guilt yesterday testified in just as cool and collected a fashion.

Archbishop Groesz apparently was arrested about the middle of May. His trial and confession appear to have been prepared in an unusually short time. Vogeler, convicted on a spy charge in February, 1950, and released last April after serving 17 months of his 15-year sentence, has given the clearest report of how these confessions are obtained. He described his own confession as "rubbish."

He said he was slapped, questioned, for hours without rest, food or sleep and was subjected to such physical, moral and mental pressure that his will to resist was gradually worn away. He said no drugs or injections were used.

(Western diplomats in Vienna said the trial apparently is part of the steady Communist campaign to undermine the Roman Catholic church by pressure and infiltration until it is the voice of the Kremlin, not the Vatican.)

The No. 2 defendant, Endre Farkas, 65, a lawyer described as an advisor on legal matters of the conspiracy, said the American legation promised a loan of $296,000, 000 when the Groesz government should be established.

Argentina Nips 'Plot'

Buenos Aires (AP) — The Army ministry announced last night that five Argentine Army officers had been arrested on charges of plotting a revolt against the government of President Juan D. Peron.

The ministry announcement climaxed eight days of scare headlines in pro-government newspapers on reports that a plot was afoot to overthrow the government and assassinate Peron, his wife and other high officials.

It said those arrested were Capt. Francisco Figueroa de La Vega and four lieutenants, Attilio Jose Menichelli, Julio Enrique Villa Mele, Edgardo Arturo Fehrman and Alberto Attias.

The ministry said the five were arrested in connection with an investigation of those participating in "a plan to create confusion and disrupt public order" which "had been disclosed in the newspapers."

It accused the arrested men of trying to draw other young officers into the plan to disrupt the army corps of officers to which they belong.

Rep. Cannon Declared Unofficial Winner Of Brief But Bloody Fight With Rep. Phillips

Washington (AP) — Two veteran congressmen staged a brief but bloody fistfight in a House corridor yesterday.

The apparent winner: Rep. Clarence Cannon (D-Mo.), 72, chairman of the Appropriations committee. He didn't have a mark on him. His opponent, Rep. John Phillips (R-Calif.), 63, suffered a lip cut which bled profusely but turned out not to be serious.

Phillips went into seclusion for a while but appeared in the House chamber several hours later, wearing a small piece of adhesive tape over his wound. He told reporters:

"Out where I come from, when a man calls you a liar and then something else, he's supposed to smile. He (Cannon) didn't smile, so I slapped him. It didn't hurt

New York-Bound Airliner With 40 Aboard Vanishes Over Damp, Jungled Swamp

Dakar, French West Africa (AP) — A Pan American Constellation bound for New York lost its bearings and vanished with 40 persons early yesterday over a damp and jungled area at the base of the African hump, 500 miles north of the Equator.

French, Liberian and American fliers joined in a hunt for it. Native tribesmen fanned out aground in the search.

The four-engined giant on a regular run from Johannesburg, South Africa, carried 31 passengers and a crew of nine Americans.

It disappeared in drizzly weather about 2:45 a.m. (11:45 p.m. Eastern Daylight Time Thursday) while it was seeking Roberts field, the airport for Monrovia, Liberia.

A regular stop had been made in the darkness at Accra, a Gold coast city 800 miles east of Monrovia.

(A dispatch from Accra reported the plane had landed at Roberts field and then took off for Dakar, 650 miles up the coast, but radioed

Young Nurse, Missing Two Weeks Without Food, Found Safe In Mountain Wilderness

Sevierville, Tenn. (AP) — Evangeline Lorimer, a young nurse who has practiced fasting, related yesterday that she stumbled through a Smoky mountain wilderness for the past 13 days without food.

Found after a widespread search, she told newsmen from her hospital bed a fabulous account of how she survived in the awesome Great Smoky Mountains National park with few ill effects.

The 21-year-old religious-minded nurse said the only things that passed her lips during the ordeal were water from mountain streams and two sour huckleberries. She lost 18 pounds.

She disappeared June 8 after setting out from her camp site to hike up spectacular Bunker hill deep in the park. As dusk fell, she said, she found herself lost in the dense, rock-strewn thickets.

An experienced hiker, she spent the first night on the bank of a stream, thinking a searching party would look there.

Clad in shirt, jeans and low white shoes, she said she wandered for days, occasionally "screaming my lungs out" when she thought she heard shouts. "No one heard. Then I prayed."

During the first week, "food didn't bother me," she said. "Why is everybody so interested in food? It's not so important. Just experimenting. I had done without it for as long as a week before."

But the second week she was lost, "my stomach was sore on my backbone . . . I dreamed about food."

"I found nice places to sleep two nights on soft leaves under an overhanging rock," she said. But sometimes she was drenched by hard rains—"I just huddled up and was miserable."

Although the park is known for its bears, she saw only one. The most vicious attack came from insects and briars, and she blistered her feet. The hospital said she was in very good condition.

At last she saw a tiny trail twisting through the brush. As nightfall neared Thursday, she heard a cow bell tinkle in the distance and followed it to the house of a ranger. She was 10 miles from the camp site.

Duff Jibes GOP

Washington (AP) — Senator Duff of Pennsylvania took an implied poke at some of his fellow Republicans yesterday. He said it's time the Republican party adopted a policy that is "positive and affirmative, not merely negative and critical."

Big Revenue Bill Sent To Senate

Washington (AP) — The House yesterday approved a record-breaking $7,200,000,000 tax increase, including a 12½ per cent boost in individual income taxes.

The measure, largest single revenue bill ever to come before Congress, now goes to the Senate, where the Finance committee plans to open hearings next week.

The vote on final passage of the bill was 233 to 160. It came after administration backers beat down, 220 to 171, a Republican move to send the bill back to committee.

On the motion to recommit, 15 Republicans and one independent joined 204 Democrats in opposition. Only one Democrat, Garmatz of Maryland, voted with 170 Republicans to recommit the bill.

On final passage, 36 Republicans and one independent joined with 196 Democrats in support of the bill, while 10 Democrats and 150 Republicans opposed it. (Rep. Francis E. Walter, D-Pa., voted for passage.)

Here is where the government would collect the additional money: Individuals, $2,847,000,000. Corporate income and excess profits taxes, $2,855,000,000. Excise taxes, $1,252,000,000. Miscellaneous changes in the revenue laws, $245,000,000.

The bill, with two post-Korea tax bills passed previously, increases taxes by a total of $17,000,000,000.

It sped through the House in two days under procedure which prevented individual members from offering amendments. The recommendations of the tax-writing ways and means committee prevailed in every respect.

Republicans in general condemned the increase as inequitable and unnecessarily large. They argued that spending should be cut drastically before more taxes were piled on the people.

Democrats rejoined that the bill was fair and that every section reflected the judgment of a majority of the ways and means unit.

While Rep. Doughton (D-NC), chairman of that committee, insisted that the additional revenue is urgently needed to pay the bills of the nation's expanding preparedness drive, he said also that he thinks the $7,200,000,000 increase is about all the economy can stand at this time.

He told his fellow members they must "face up to the fact that any higher tax rates on either individuals or corporations or excises would be exceedingly burdensome and difficult to impose."

Doughton agreed with the Re-

HST Challenges Opponents Of Health Program

Bethesda, Md. (AP) — President Truman yesterday challenged opponents of his compulsory health insurance plan to "come up with a better proposal, or even one that is almost as good."

If they do, Mr. Truman said, "I'll go along with them."

The President stated his position in an address dedicating the National Institute of Health's new clinical center in Bethesda, a suburb of Washington. Later he laid the cornerstone of the $60,000,000 structure.

The Medical Association of the American President association replied that a better program than the President's compulsory health insurance plan "already is available and is functioning admirably—the American medical system which has made this the healthiest great nation in the world."

Jackson Moves To Jail Reds

Washington (AP) — Justice Jackson of the Supreme court late yesterday refused to stay prison sentences of the 11 U. S. Communist party leaders who were convicted of conspiracy.

The refusal clears the way for the Justice department to move for early imprisonment of the Red leaders. They could be locked up about July 1.

The 11 asked Jackson to stay the prison sentences until the Supreme court could act next fall on a request that it reconsider its June 4 decision affirming their conviction. The court is now in summer recess.

Community Service To Be Held Sunday

The second in the series of outdoor community services will be conducted at the LaBar's Rhododendron nursery on Sunday at 7 p. m. This series is becoming quite popular with the worshippers of Stroudsburg.

Tomorrow night the service will be in charge of Rev. Dr. R. N. Wohlsen, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, who will also bring the message. Special music will be provided by the Pocono Male chorus. An invitation is extended to all citizens to join in this outdoor service each Lord's day evening.

The pastors of the community are indebted to the several funeral directors of Stroudsburg for their cooperation in providing chairs. The service lasts only one hour in the beautiful natural setting of this beauty spot.

Only Week Remains To Invite Fresh Air Tots Into Homes

Hosts' Names To Be Listed Next Week

Names of hosts to New York City's tenement children who will come here July 10 for two-week vacation under auspices of Monroe County's Herald Tribune Fresh Air committee will be announced next week.

As hosts issue their invitations through June 29, the deadline for inviting the underprivileged children, their names will be listed by the committee. Children may be invited through The Daily Record coupon on Page 12 or by calling Station WVPO 1102.

John Wilson, general secretary of YMCA and chairman of the committee, said yesterday the next seven days offer the only opportunity for residents of Monroe County to open their homes and the Pocono mountains to children who have never seen anything of its kind except in picture books.

Every child is carefully selected by top social service agencies working for the New York Herald Tribune Fresh Air Fund. Every child is given a thorough physical examination. All transportation and medical care expenses are paid by the Fresh Air Fund.

A committee has been set up to welcome the youngsters at Gordon Giffels Field with a box lunch and milk, pending their assignment to families who have invited them to this region.

Jury Ponders Murder Case

Allentown (AP)—Jack L. Cernobyl, 17, was acquitted by a Lehigh county jury last night of the murder of Army Master Sgt. Raymond S. Noll last March 24.

Allentown (AP)—Jury of six men and six women retired last night to deliberate the fate of Jack L. Cernobyl, 17, charged with murder in the fatal beating of Army Sgt. Raymond S. Noll last March 24.

In his summation to the jury, District Attorney Kenneth H. Koch asked for a verdict of first degree murder without the death penalty.

Paul McGinley, defending Cernobyl, called for acquittal of this bewildered young man.

Earlier in the day Cernobyl took the stand and pleaded self-defense in the beating of the soldier. He also denied taking Noll's watch and a cigarette lighter after the beating. This partly contradicted his signed confession.

In charging the jury, Judge James F. Henninger said the immoral character of the defendant "does not enter into the guilt or innocence of these young men. In spite of any immoral character his life is considered precious to the Commonwealth."

Stanley Marvin Jr., 20, co-defendant with Cernobyl, is slated to go on trial Monday morning.

Harker Resigns School Position

Blairtown, N. J. — Hilman H. Harker, has resigned as supervising principal of Blairtown schools. It was announced here yesterday after he submitted a request to be relieved of his duties to the Board of Education.

Principal Harker asked that his resignation be made effective August 1, so that he may accept a position of supervising principal of the school system at Lakewood, N. J.

At Blairtown, Mr. Harker succeeded Andrew Estok, graduate of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, and a former member of the faculty at Newton High School.

Harker, a former Army intelligence officer, has degrees from Rider College and Rutgers University.

Mrs. Myers said Homeyer's letters came from Factoryville, Pa., where parts of his wife's dismembered body were later found. She added the defendant told her he was a widower and she wrote back if he came to see her to bring along his wife's death certificate. She said the letters stopped then until she heard from him in Florida in December, 1949.

In March, 1950, she said he asked her to meet him in New Castle, Pa. That suggestion came three days after the Commonwealth contends he had killed his wife.

Mrs. Myers testified she met Homeyer and they went to California where the idyll ended when he became angry because she had no money.

Lt. Stanley Smith, handwriting expert for the State police, testified 15 signatures in the name of Anna Snelleman Homeyer on her bank withdrawal slips, an insurance document and the deed to her home were forgeries.

Tunkhannock police reported Mrs. Gertrude Muriel Edwards, who refused Thursday to testify against Homeyer, is missing. She is reported to have married Homeyer 14 years ago when both were employed in a mental hospital in Connecticut.

Hard Rains Wash Region

The first day of summer yesterday really left its mark this year around the Stroudsburg area. With the sun beaming down most of the day, no one paid much attention to the weather forecast which said "slight thunder showers late in the day."

About 6:30 p. m., however, hard rains deluged the region. The streets washed with a downpour of water that flowed into the gutters like a miniature river. Lightning flashes dimmed the lights at intervals and driving became hazardous.

Power and telephone service was disrupted in some sections. The power lines to Kunkletown, Palmerton, Lehigh and other points west of here were out 30 minutes before they could be repaired. Near Nazareth, traffic was held up because of the wires across the road.

Three Cars In Collision

Three cars banged bumpers on Main St. in front of the Penn-Stroud hotel during the heavy rainstorm shortly before 9 last night.

Officer William Borger said one driver, blinded by the beating rain, stopped his car after pulling part way to the curb.

Driver of another car behind the parking vehicle saw the other vehicle in the unusual position and stopped. Two cars following didn't stop, however, and each cracked into the rear of the car in front.

Stroudsburg Pool Begins Swimming Lessons Monday

Mrs. Ruth Serfass, director of the Stroudsburg playground swimming pool, announced yesterday that swimming classes will begin Monday.

All interested people should report to the pool at 10 a. m. Monday for registration.

The following is a schedule that the pool will use this coming season.

Instruction for the swimmers in the intermediate class will be held from 10 to 11 a. m., Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. Swimming class for the beginners will be held from 11 a. m. to noon, Monday, Wednesday and Friday. Diving classes will take place from 10 to 11 a. m., Tuesday and Thursday. Junior and Senior life saving instruction will be from 11 a. m. to noon, Tuesday and Thursday.

Free swimming for all children up to the age of 18 will continue from 1 to 3 p. m. every day except Saturday, Sunday and holidays. The pool will be open to everyone from 1 to 8 p. m. weekdays and from 2 to 6 p. m., Saturday, Sunday and holidays. The kiddie pool under the supervision of Miss Virginia Robinson, will be open from 1 to 5 p. m. daily.

Fine will address the people on the subject "Budget and Taxes"—a subject which has stirred up a storm of controversy in the General Assembly.

The Governor's office gave no advance details of his talk but it is expected to deal largely with Fine's reasons for seeking a proposed $119,000,000 State income tax. He contends the tax is needed to plug a gap in his $1,220,000,000 State budget for the next two years.

The income tax has created a wide split in the Republican majority in the State Senate. Opponents contend the budget can be balanced without imposition of any new taxes.

Elderly Woman Found By Police

The 78-year-old East Stroudsburg woman, reported as missing earlier this week, has been removed from police missing persons lists.

The woman, Ella Kreuger, 259 Broadhead Ave., East Stroudsburg, disappeared late Wednesday, but she was found early Thursday at 5 a. m. when Officer Earle Brown spied her sitting on a porch at the home of Mrs. Elsie Thulin, 342 Brown St.

She was taken to her own home in dazed condition.

Building Fund Leaders Meet

Brodheadsville — The West End Fire Co. building fund committee held a meeting last night at Chestnuthill High school.

Sheriff Amzi F. Altemose, chairman of the committee, announced that the goal set for the campaign was $30,000.

Three townships will be covered. They are Chestnuthill, with Henry Huffman in charge; Polk, with Harry Young as the chairman; and Eldred, in charge of Rufus Meekes.

All residents and property owners are being asked to contribute. The campaign ends July 2.

Seventy-five volunteers were present to hear Wilbur Warner, Lehigh postmaster, give a short talk.

John Brislin Buys Hotel

operated as part of the Tope chain through the 1950 season.

For years, the Reenleith with its spacious porches and excellent views of the Water Gap and Cherry Valley, specialized in serving Sunday dinners. These meals, served on the verandas, attracted many visitors from the Stroudsburgs and also from distant points.

Mr. Brislin said last night that he plans to complete kitchen and dining facilities at his new Laurel lodge by adding a coffee shop and other equipment.

The hotel already has a spacious lobby, featuring a large fireplace which burns six-foot logs; private baths with each of the 18 rooms, an outdoor tennis court, and three and one-half acres of landscaped grounds.

Its three and one-half stories are solidly constructed of cement and tile reinforced with steel.

The new owner also disclosed that the C. G. Bush and Sons firm will trim bushes on the grounds and make any necessary cuttings from trees on the scenic spot.

Walter Foss, Mr. Brislin's associate in the Brislin and Foss resort consultant firm, will handle all publicity, promotions and public relations work for the Laurel lodge.

After opening July 1, the hotel will extend its season to October 15, closing for the winter after the Columbus Day weekend.

250 Spotters To Take Part In Exercise

The 10 U. S. Air Force auxiliary spotting stations in Monroe county will join the 590 others in the State in the nationwide Air Force sponsored exercise planned for Sunday and Sunday, Col. Harry A. Serfass, director of the ground-air observation units in Monroe, announced last night.

Colonel Serfass estimated that approximately 250 persons may participate in the continuous operation which will start at 9 a. m. and continue through tonight until 6 p. m. tomorrow.

The volunteers at the strategically-located stations extending from East Stroudsburg to the mountain area will be among several thousand operating in close contact with the Harrisburg filter center during the 33-hour vigil.

They'll be on watch for U. S. Air Force planes simulating an attack by an enemy trying to elude detection by radar. According to advance releases, the "enemy" planes may also try to break through spotter and radar lines in the Great Lakes area, as well as in Pennsylvania.

The testing of radar defenses means that a five-man team from U. S. Naval Reserve Volunteer Electronics Warfare Co. 4-6 will participate in the night operation in this region.

Petty Officer Russell E. Stout, in charge of the radar section of the local naval reserve unit commanded by Lt. John Reagan, advised The Daily Record that portable Navy equipment will be used on an all-night patrol in this vicinity.

Tentative plans for the radar detection phase of the operation call for establishment of a radio contact at the George M. Kemp American Legion post spotter station on Washington St., East Stroudsburg. Stout said this will provide a connection with existing spotter station telephonic communications.

The balance of the radar equipment will be used on patrols and checks made at high elevations in the vicinity, the petty officers explained. The team in the field will be in constant radio communication with the Kemp post station, he added.

Colonel Serfass disclosed that checks made last night with the 10 spotter station commanders indicated that all personnel have been alerted. Some of the stations have as many as 43 volunteers on their call rolls, he noted.

Crash Occurs Near Station

Cars operated by James Shiffer, 17, of 10 N. Third St., Stroudsburg, and Leeward Eugene Harville, 25, of Astrop, La., collided on Crystal St., East Stroudsburg, near the Lackawanna station early last night.

Officer Edward M. Harlow, who investigated for east borough police, said damages approximated $100.

Shiffer was driving a 1937 heavy model coupe, while Harville was operating a late model sedan owned by James A. Linsey, whose address is Memphis, Tenn.

Linsey, head of a group of magazine salesmen, was a passenger in his vehicle at the time.

No Savings Seen

Akron, O., (AP)—A government slash of 14 cents a pound in raw rubber it imports and sells to industry is unlikely to bring any immediate savings to consumers, spokesmen for the nation's big tire producers indicated here last night.

Creation Of Anti-Communism Crusade Committee Discussed At Meeting With Bennett

Preliminary discussions on creation of a Pocono Mountains Crusade for Freedom committee which will seek ideas at the "grass-roots" level on how to destroy forces of Communism and convey to captive peoples the enlightenment of the free world were held here yesterday.

Meeting at Penn-Stroud hotel at the invitation of Gerald P. O'Neill, a local group studied the project to battle the Klemm conspiracy with a radio and TV show.

Mr. Bennett is now with Radio Free Europe, mouthpiece of Crusade for Freedom which is directed by Gen. Lucius D. Clay, former commander of American forces in Germany.

The local development is a project of Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce. The ideas on how to smash the Communist world conspiracy are to be gathered from community meetings throughout the Poconos region.

Recordings of these ideas from farmers, laborers, factory men and women, clerks, etc. will be made for a radio and TV show which will tell the other people of the United States how the Crusade for Freedom operates through Radio Free Europe which has its programs reaching behind the Iron Curtain with facts to enlighten people held prisoner even to their thoughts—by Communism.

Meeting in the preliminary session with Mr. Bennett yesterday were Mr. O'Neill, Dr. Joseph F. Noonan, LeRoy Mikels, John Desanto, Elton Hall and H. G. Heller.

A central steering committee is proposed with an overall chairman. Operating with this group would be a leader and committee in every township and borough where meetings would be sponsored and people present their ideas on how best to spike Communist lies and promote world freedom and peace.

These ideas will be broadcast to the 71,000,000 people imprisoned behind Stalin's Iron Curtain, as well as be developed for a radio and TV show to sell the project to every one of America's towns, cities and rural areas.

Cpl. Smith arrives on Central Front

With the Seventh Infantry Division, U. S. Army, in Korea — Cpl. Forrest C. Smith, husband of Mrs. Marian L. Smith, Reiders, Pa., recently arrived in Korea and joined the 17th Infantry (Buffalo) Regiment on the central front.

Smith was stationed at Fort Dix, N. J., before sailing for Korea after a furlough at home.

To supplement his previous training, Smith was further trained by seasoned veterans of the Korean campaign in the use of the bayonet, hand grenades, light and heavy machine guns and other infantry weapons in preparation for his front line assignment.

His regiment, commanded by Col. William W. (Buffalo Bill) Quinn, is playing an active role in the Korean campaign. They participated in the initial liberation of Seoul and later were the only American regiment to reach the Manchurian border.

Smith wears the Combat Infantryman badge, World War Two Victory medal, German Occupation ribbon, and the American Defense ribbon.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shiffer, of the Third St. address, he was employed by the Hughes Printing Co. in East Stroudsburg prior to his Army enlistment Jan. 25, 1949. Prior to that, he worked for several years as delivery boy at the Main St. Atlantic and Pacific Tea Co. market.

Woman Testifies Homeyer Proposed Marriage But Called It Off Because She Had No Money

Tunkhannock (AP)—Mrs. Nancy Parker Myers, 47, of Milwaukee, Wis., yesterday testified in the trial of Charles E. Homeyer, 53, for the slaying of his wife, Anna.

Mrs. Myers took the stand to testify she held a mail romance with Homeyer during which he proposed marriage while, the Commonwealth charges, his wife was still alive.

Mrs. Myers told the court in a clipped British accent she and Homeyer began exchanging letters in August, 1949, when he answered an advertisement she placed in a publication called "Cupid's Delight."

She said she was a native of England who came to the United States in 1947. A divorcee at the time of the correspondence, she said she has since remarried.

Mrs. Myers said Homeyer's letters came from Factoryville, Pa., where parts of his wife's dismembered body were later found. She added the defendant told her he was a widower and she wrote back if he came to see her to bring along his wife's death certificate. She said the letters stopped then until she heard from him in Florida in December, 1949.

In March, 1950, she said he asked her to meet him in New Castle, Pa. That suggestion came three days after the Commonwealth contends he had killed his wife.

Mrs. Myers testified she met Homeyer and they went to California where the idyll ended when he became angry because she had no money.

Lt. Stanley Smith, handwriting expert for the State police, testified 15 signatures in the name of Anna Snelleman Homeyer on her bank withdrawal slips, an insurance document and the deed to her home were forgeries.

Tunkhannock police reported Mrs. Gertrude Muriel Edwards, who refused Thursday to testify against Homeyer, is missing. She is reported to have married Homeyer 14 years ago when both were employed in a mental hospital in Connecticut.

Unneeded Judgeships

Philadelphia is having an interesting and keen little debate which might be amusing if it didn't have some prospects of saddling some added expense on the public.

Proposal has been made that four new municipal judgeships be created. But President Judge John A. Boyle says they are unnecessary. City Controller Joseph S. Clark, Democratic candidate for mayor is opposing the enabling measure now in the Legislature and calls on the two principal Republican candidates to do likewise.

Formidable opposition is building up. Clark charges the new judgeships are proposed primarily to enable political judges to overrule Judge Boyle. The jurist is credited with having succeeded in taking court employees out of politics for the first time since 1915.

Others of influence and realistic approach point out that the number of judgeships has increased 140 per cent since 1913, whereas the city population has grown only 33 1/3 per cent. Clark says the courts may be busy, but if all were willing to work like Judge Boyle and some of his associates no congestion would develop.

If Judge Boyle, as head of the court, feels no additional judges are necessary, his word should carry major weight. The Legislature and Governor Fine will want to be on very firm ground if it chooses to disregard his stand.

Old Code Will Do

Comptroller General Lindsay S. Warren thinks we need a code of ethics for public officials. Aroused by five per centers, deep freezers and similar abuses as revealed in mink-coat-land, he asserts we need something to insure a little old-fashioned common honesty, decency and fair dealing. He says:

"We cannot afford another spree of waste, profligacy and utter disregard of the public interest."

He's right about that, but he's wrong about us needing any additional codes. A very good one has been available for some thousands of years since Moses brought it down from the mountain. Plain, old-fashioned observances of the Ten Commandments and some plain, old-fashioned enforcement of the existing laws are quite enough to end the five per centing and the mink coating. It would help, too, if the Administration would say something to underscore the old-fashioned virtues and to frown upon the new-fashioned cynicism which regards a government job as a license to loot.

Not A Good Buy

Our foreign aid program was established to build up the resistance of our Allies against Communism. It was in no sense a purely charitable endeavor since stronger and more determined allies would increase our own chances of surviving the worldwide threat of Communism.

The effort has cost us billions and the end is not yet in sight. Indeed, the Truman administration seems bent in expanding the program to include not only our Allies but all the world's under-developed lands.

We have had two elections recently, in Italy and France, from which to draw conclusions about foreign aid. Both indicate that its value has been vastly overrated.

In the Italian municipal election, the Communists' popular vote reflected no lessening in popularity.

In the French national election, the Communists polled more popular votes than any other party.

Despite U.S. aid then, Communists have been able to maintain their strength because of traditionally tragic social and economic weaknesses that the Marshall Plan has done nothing to correct. It would seem foolhardy for us to strain our economy seriously with a program that has shown such shabby results—until the benefitting nations show some sign of eliminating economic abuses on which Communism feeds.

Try And Stop Me

Two agents were seated at a table in Mike Romanoff's new Hollywood restaurant watching Clark Gable, Van Johnson, Dore Schary, Mervyn LeRoy, and Spencer Tracy dine lengthily and well. "Look at them," sighed one of the agents. "How'd you like to have ten percent of their salaries?" The other said, "The way things are in the film business today, I'd be satisfied with ten percent of their dinner checks!"

Hollywood

By Gene Handsaker

Hollywood—Now Jane Russell's husband is acting in the movies, too.

Bob Waterfield is, of course, approximately as big a star on the football field as his wife is in pictures. These days he's swimming a river or forward-passing explosive-filled gourds at hostile natives in "Jungle Jim in the Forbidden Land."

"I made up my mind I'd try pictures," Bob told me after a scene in which he floored several of his Johnny Weissmuller's adversaries. "I'm going to do it as well as I can; have fun; enjoy it; if it's not what they want, I won't worry."

Producer Sam Katzman confided, "He doesn't try to act. He's Waterfield. That's what I like about him." Director Lew Landers said he was "a cool, calm, natural quality."

Also a bit of the country-boy quality, you'd say on first impression. The reserved, easy-going manner of a champion. He's 30 years old, 6 feet 1 inch, 190 pounds, with black hair and blue eyes. He grew up in nearby Van Nuys, in whose high school he met Miss Russell. They've been married nine years.

The former UCLA quarterback is under contract for two movies a year. The pact leaves him free every August-to-January for his pigskin chores with the professional Los Angeles Rams. Waterfield says he is going to play football "until I get good and tired of it." He thinks he has three, four, or five years of it left in him.

How does he like movie-acting? "It's fun. It's a switch. I'll guarantee you that." Except for summertime extra parts and a two-line role in a football picture, which led to this contract, it's his first experience. He has never been in school plays.

How about two movie careers in the same family?

These Days — By George E. Sokolsky

The China Lobby
Three factors enter into the propaganda of any country within the United States:

1. The legitimate provision of information and propaganda. Such agencies are maintained in the United States by nearly all countries, probably the largest being the British.

American employees of such organizations are required by law to register as foreign agents. This list has heretofore always been a public document, available to anyone who cared to look at it. For some reason, not readily understood, this has now become a secret list, perhaps to protect Washington lawyers.

2. The various organizations of Americans who voluntarily spend their own time and money being pro or anti this or that. The country is full of them. As regards China, there are a number of associations in favor of Nationalist or Communist China. Some of these have been effective.

3. The clandestine efforts of foreign governments by diverse means to influence public opinion.

Sunday School Lesson

Scripture—II Timothy 2:1-9; I Peter 4:12-5:11; Revelation 1:7, 9-17.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

ONE OF the saddest phases of our present generation is the revival of the ancient persecution of the Christian Church. Under the Nazis of Germany, and now under Communism, leaders of the church are imprisoned, subjected to what we know not what persecutions.

In this lesson we see how the persecutions of the early church spread. Paul was in prison in Rome; Peter was facing his own martyrdom, and John was an exile on the Island of Patmos where he received his Revelation. Paul writing in his prison cell, chained to a soldier, wrote the last letter of his life to the young preacher whom he regarded as his son in Christ, Timothy. Some say the letter was written with Paul's own blood.

"Thou therefore, my son, be strong in the grace that is in Christ Jesus."

"And the things that thou hast heard of me among many witnesses, the same commit thou to faithful men, who shall be able to teach others also."

"Thou therefore endure hardness as a good soldier of Jesus Christ."

The gallantry of people facing death is a never-ending miracle. These men with the prospect of a horrible death in front of them, were sustained by their faith in Christ, who went to His death on the cross after Gethsemane.

All martyrs must have their moments of praying that the cup of suffering may be spared them. Nevertheless, they do not flinch, but go manfully—as soldiers of the Lord—to whatever death they are sentenced.

Paul also wrote Timothy that he (Paul) was suffering, "as an evil doer," a criminal—"but the word of God is not bound."

No, indeed, the word of God is not bound. It has spread over all the earth, in spite of persecution and the death of its followers. They died "as good soldiers," but the Word has marched on, carried by its fearless and devoted disciples.

Wrote Paul: "Beloved, think it all strange concerning the fiery trial which is to try you, as though some strange thing happened unto you."

But rejoice, inasmuch as ye are partakers of Christ's sufferings; that, when His glory shall be revealed, ye may be glad also with exceeding joy."

Then he writes them that "let none of you suffer as a murderer, or as a thief, or as an evildoer, or as a busybody in other men's matters."

"Yet if any man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed; but let him glorify God on his behalf."

"Wherefore let them that suffer according to the will of God commit the keeping of the souls to Him in well doing, as unto a faithful Creator."

Peter next addressed the following words to the elders of the church, himself being an elder: "Feed the flock of God which is among you, taking the oversight thereof; not by constraint, but willingly; not for filthy lucre, but of a ready mind."

"Neither as being lords over God's heritage, but being examples to the flock."

"And when the Chief Shepherd shall appear, ye shall receive a crown of glory that fadeth not away."

There Peter struck at one of man's greatest weaknesses. It is always the trial of a great man that no matter how many honors come to him, he remain humble. Even preachers who have unusual success in their work, may be tempted to forget that our Lord won great fame as a teacher, preacher and healer, but He always remained the simple, sincere and approachable Man to ion. These are naturally not always traceable. For instance, Nationalist China had, during the war years, set up agencies in Washington under the general management of T. B. Soong, David Corcoran (brother of Tommy) and Ludwig Rajchman to operate various enterprises in connection with loans, supplies, etc. Whether such an agency also engaged in influencing views, I do not know. The natural supposition must be that every country seeks to win friends and does the best it can. And the winning of friendship is a gentle art with many techniques.

Soviet Russia employed Amtorg in numerous ways, from trade and commerce to espionage. To what extent other governments employ similar agencies for these purposes has never been established in a quotable manner.

The phrase, "The China Lobby," has thus far not been defined as belonging to the categories described above. If it is found that the agency of the Chinese government employed a publicity firm such as the Allied Syndicates, Inc., or some other, there can be no legitimate either of the employer or the employee. The allied syndicates has been close to the Democratic party, having had John Sullivan, former Secretary of the Navy, and Clark Clifford, former counselor to the President, associated with it. It has also been suggested that a member of the president's office had recommended this firm.

There can be no reasonable objection to the employment of this firm for straight publicity work, if that is what they do. I have no information to the contrary.

The cry against "The China Lobby" originated in the Russell committee among those Senators who are violently anti-MacArthur. Their object is to detract attention from the failings of the administration to the protagonists of Chiang Kai-shek. Their butt is not the hired public relations counsel nor even the Chinese themselves; it is to bring odium to American citizens who have spent their own time and money to oppose the Communist conquest of China. They would like to pillory Alfred Kohlberg, a citizen who is devoted to anti-Communism.

The reason that these politicians hate Kohlberg is that they believe that he is responsible for Senator Joe McCarthy—which would be something for anyone to take on. Joe McCarthy and Kohlberg are friends and serve in the same cause. So are a great many other Americans. It will do no harm to bring it all into the open, not by smearing nor by sly, undefined accusations, but by setting forth the virtue of these Americans who inhibited the State department policy of aiding Communist China.

As a matter of fact, it is encouraging to see Americans put up the fight they have against Communist China. Perhaps had there been no Kohlbergs, Soviet Russia would, by now, be in Burma, Siam and Iran.

I know this man and have often wondered at his fanatical insistence in a tough fight. A merchant, he has devoted time, money, and experience to the fight. He got into it by accident; that it, he believed that the Institute of Pacific Relations of which he had been a member and to which he had contributed, had misrepresented itself to him. He got sore.

The more he got into that fight the more he recognized that the battle had to be broadened until it included an attack on all Communist activity, particularly right here in the United States.

He has proved to be an effective fighter and a competent leader in a good cause. Investigators of Kohlberg will have a tough time discovering any anti-American attitudes.

Looking at Life

By Erich Brandeis

Brandeis

A rather cute story came over the wires out of West Hartlepool, England, the other day.

It seemed to me that there was material for a column in it.

Frankly, I forgot just what struck me about it from a writer's point of view.

I'll tell you the story—but the time I get through with it the idea may come back to me.

A fellow by the name of Ernest Raddie complained to the police that he had been nipped by a collie and asked to have the owner arrested.

The police complied and hailed the owner, one George Roberts, before the magistrates court and ordered him to bring the offending dog along.

Roberts obeyed the summons but instead of bringing one dog, he brought six, all his. They all looked alike and they were all good dogs, he said. He didn't know which one HAD bitten Raddie and he doubted that anyone of them WOULD bite anybody.

The six collies just sat there in a row and looked at the three magistrates.

The three magistrates looked at the collies.

Then the judges went into a huddle.

"Which one of these dogs bit you?" the chief magistrate asked Raddie.

Raddie looked and looked, first at one then at each of the other five.

But he got no help from the collies. They just sat there and wagged their tails. They didn't say a word. One of the onlookers could have sworn that they were laughing at Raddie and at the judges.

Finally he confessed that he couldn't tell for the life of him which of the six had nipped him.

The magistrates went into another huddle.

Then came the verdict. Chief Magistrate, the Honourable W. T. Hogg, pronounced it.

"Mr. Roberts," he said sternly. "The court orders you to keep the dog that bit Mr. Raddie under control hereafter."

"And it is up to you to decide which one it is."

"Court dismissed."

I think I know now why I wanted to use this story for my column.

It reminds me of a lot of us human folk.

We know there are many things wrong with the people we know. We also know that a lot of people think that there are many things wrong with us.

But when we sit down to analyze the faults of other people—and our own—we get all mixed up and don't know where to start or what is really wrong with them or with us.

So, after all, before we go around complaining about others and being dissatisfied with ourselves, we ought to do what His Honour told Mr. Raddie to do:

"And it is up to you to decide which one it is."

I don't think this is particularly wise philosophy, but if you have a better one . . .

. . . it is up to you to decide which one it is."

Phillips

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

One of America's most famous movie stars, honeymooning with Husband No. 4 (reading from "left to left"), will close out at auction all personal possessions acquired under previous marriages. Her sun-halter and false will be included, the announcement says, together with wedding rings and a watch from one husband, bearing an engraving of hearts entwined as a symbol of deathless devotion. We can hear it now.

Auctioneer—Your attention, please! Every item in this collection will go to the highest bidder, without reservations. This is an all-out dispersal sale of memories of ex-husbands, perhaps the best memento auction in history. Number one is this beautiful wedding ring. It is from one of the lady's earlier husbands.

Voice—Is it an antique?

Auctioneer—Come, come, you know very well these girls don't keep husbands that long. It goes away back in her collection, however, and is one of the choicest items in the lot. To the lucky bidder we will throw in a nightgown, two pairs of shoes and a poem on orange blossoms. (After excited bidding). Sold! And now we come to a lovely silken sun-halter. This will make an attractive asset in any home. If you are collecting sun-halters, here is a rare opportunity.

Voice—Is it authentic?

Auctioneer—A letter attesting to it as an original goes to the bidder. The halter is also notarized. If you take home a sun-halter like this you can't make a mistake.

A Male Bidder—That's what you think.

Auctioneer (later)—That brings us to a watch, a gift from one of the lady's husbands. Note the hearts entwined and the words "Yours Always." There has rarely been an expression of greater optimism. Sold to that gentleman over there for the trophy room of the Optimists Clubs of America. And now we come to the falsies, representing one of the most famed collections in the world.

Voice—Are they genuine?

Auctioneer—Would anybody be so false as to make a false statement about a falsie? Certainly not. Do I hear one thousand dollars?

Voice—Isn't that pretty high?

Auctioneer—Remember these are not orthodox run-of-the-mill falsies. They are the falsies of distinction, perhaps the best known falsies in this hemisphere. I have a bid of $2,000.

Voice—Twenty-five hundred!

Auctioneer—We don't take $500 bids. Whose falsies do you think you are buying? These falsies are priceless to any collection of real Americans. They were factors in the great national style changes. They were influences in the trend away from traditions. Sociologists maintain they are important as marking the first definite break by American womanhood with truth and veracity. Sold to that gentleman who says his wife wants them for lampshades! And now another wedding ring. Stamped on the inside are the words "Forever and anon."

Voice—Are you kidding?

Mrs. George Presents Flags To Two Camps

Saylorsburg—Alice George, 84, of Saylorsburg, presented Camp #208, P. O. of A., and Camp #327 P. O. S. A., Saylorsburg, with an American flag of nylon.

Mrs. George although she never belonged to the lodge, wanted to do her bit. She presented the flag in honor of her sister, Mrs. John Eckle, with whom she makes her home, and her many relatives who belong to the lodges.

Despite her years, she still has an interest in public affairs, and attends whenever possible. The program was given Thursday night after the P. O. of A. lodge meeting at the firehall.

Mrs. Anna M. Serfas was toastmaster, and Rev. Adan Bohner offered prayer. Mrs. Serfas presented a "Tribute to the Flag", and told the wishes of her aunt (Mrs. George, Mrs. P. W. Meixell accepted the flag in behalf of Camp P. O. of A., and Rev. Adan Bohner, in behalf of P. O. S. of A. lodge.

Mrs. George in response told how she was glad that she was an American, and lived in America.

Mr. Bohner spoke on the American flag, and what it stands for. Readings were given by Mrs. Norman Greenamoyer, Mrs. Clayton Snyder, Mrs. George Metzgar, Miss Joan Blake.

Mrs. Grant Knowles sang, "God Bless America" and Mrs. Knowles and Mrs. Clarence Budge sang a duet, "America and Our Flag", accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Frank Schick.

Albert Altamus, and Lewis Faustick also spoke and the meeting closed with singing "God Be With You 'till We Meet Again". Refreshments were served.

Auxiliary Plans Picnic For Anniversary

The auxiliary of the Good Fellowship club of Patterson-Kelly will celebrate the first anniversary of its organization at the meeting to be held Sunday, June 24, at 6 p.m. at the home of Mrs. George Altmann.

There will be an outdoor picnic, followed by a parcel post party, a brief business meeting and entertainment.

Each member is asked to bring a gift for sale and their own table service.

Many Attend Bible School Graduation

Graduation exercises for the Stroudsburg Daily Vacation Bible School last night filled the auditorium of the Stroudsburg Presbyterian church with families and friends of the 128 children who were enrolled in the two-week sessions.

Sponsored by the Presbyterian, Methodist and Reformed churches of Stroudsburg, the school had as its principal, Mrs. Harold Stiff, Mrs. Merlin Rutt, secretary, reported that there was an average daily attendance of 108 throughout the sessions.

Rev. Walter Johnston gave the invocation which was followed by student pledges to the American flag, the Christian flag, and the Bible.

Rev. Ernest Campbell spoke briefly and introduced Mrs. Stiff, who in turn presented her staff.

The Beginner's department in golden crowns had "Children of the Bible" as the theme of their program; while the Primary department, wearing sailor collars told of "Bible Boats." The Junior department's theme was "Christians Walk and Talk"; while the Intermediate department presented the parables by means of puppets they had made.

The faculty of the school included Mrs. John Hiller, superintendent; of beginners, assisted by Mrs. Hugh Altomose, Mrs. Al Davis, Mrs. Edgar Hall, Mrs. Kenneth Stevens, Mrs. William Altomose Jr., Mrs. Claude Beidler and Miss Helen Shick.

In the primary department, Mrs. Howard Alles was assisted by Mrs. Roger Acker and Mrs. Peter Wyckoff. Mrs. Theodore Metzgar was superintendent of juniors assisted by Mrs. Nelson Frantz, Mrs. Melvin Fetterhoff, Mrs. Robert Wilson and Mrs. Oren Stiff. Mrs. Edward Hess and Mrs. Charles Peters directed the intermediates.

Betsy Smith and Harriett Garaventi assisted with the recreational program.

Club Has Luncheon

Mrs. Dorothy Lim entertained the members of her pinocchio club at a luncheon this week at the Green Lantern Tea room. Afterward they played cards in one of the cabins which has been arranged for that purpose.

Lt. and Mrs. James LaGrone

Metzgars At Wedding Of Nephew

Dr. and Mrs. T. I. Metzgar have returned from attending the wedding of Mrs. Metzgar's nephew, James LaGrone, to Miss Ila Sample, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sample, of Buhl, Idaho.

Mr. LaGrone has many friends here where he has spent many summers. He is the son of Mrs. Amanda R. LaGrone, of Highland Park, Mich.

The wedding was preceded by a series of pre-nuptial parties, including a buffet supper for the bride party after the rehearsal at which Mrs. LaGrone and Mrs. Metzgar were hostesses.

The wedding was a formal one held at 8 p.m. Saturday, June 9, in the First Baptist church at Castleford, Idaho, with the bride's attendants in pastel formal gowns, and identical twins as candle-lighters.

There was a reception for 200 guests in the church reception hall following the ceremony, with Mrs. Metzgar presiding at the punch bowl.

The bride is a graduate of Castleford high school, and Mrs. Metzgar went out early to attend her graduation from the University of Idaho with high honors. She was a member of Kappa Alpha Theta and Phi Delta Kappa.

The bridegroom was also graduated from the University of Idaho, where he was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Blue Key honorary society.

He is a second lieutenant in the US Marine Corps, and will be stationed at Quantico, Va. Lt. and Mrs. LaGrone are now making their home in Frederickburg, Va.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

After sweltering through a sticky day when everybody seemed a little irritable, it was too bad to have the cooling rain come just when your favorite team in the Little League was ahead 3 to 2.

And such a rain. Couldn't even open the windows in the car filled with wet and steaming little ball players, though finally it became a choice between smothering or drowning, practically, as they insisted we wait out the full 15-minute leeway.

Stayed pretty hot in the Presbyterian church, too, for the Bible school graduation, but I doubt if the parents noticed in their absorption in how well their child was doing on the program.

Couldn't help noticing the crops of pretty blonde pre-school youngsters coming along, who also managed to keep their parents' minds off the heat.

Don't know whether they're more wearing at that quick-silver stage or at the "anything-for-a-lough" stage where they sick the dog on a barking spree right in the middle of a broadcast from home.

Well, maybe it will seem funny after a good night's sleep.

Listen to Bobby Westbrook daily, Monday through Friday, on "The Party Line" WVPO, 10:05 a.m.

Class Meets Monday

The Fidelity class of St. John's Lutheran church will meet at the home of Mrs. Miles Green, N. Eighth and Phillips, Monday, June 25, at 8 p.m.

Bangor—Mrs. Jennie Moyer was nominated for the office of president of the auxiliary of the Emilen H. Evans American Legion post 378 here Thursday night.

Others nominated were Mrs. Jean Bonney, first vice-president; Mrs. Vera Blake, second vice-president; Mrs. Hazel Groner, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Hannah Roth, recording secretary; Mrs. Ruth Hahn, treasurer; Mrs. Mary Ordinski, sergeant-at-arms; Mrs. Ruth Houck, historian; Mrs. Charlotte Buskirk, chaplain.

Elections will be conducted at the auxiliary's September meeting.

Mrs. Moyer and Mrs. Hahn were also named delegates to the auxiliary's Statewide convention at Pittsburgh August 8 through 11.

Pollyannas Meet At Greenamoyer's

Saylorsburg — Pollyannas of Mt. Eaton church met Monday night at the home of Mrs. Norman Greenamoyer, with her daughter, Gloria, and Mrs. Elmer Marsh assisting.

President Mrs. Grant Knowles was in charge of the business meeting. An incomplete report was given on the recent successful festival.

Christmas cards were on display and orders taken, also orders taken for religious calendars. Further orders may be given to any of the Pollyannas.

A Bible quiz was held on the first twenty chapters of Exodus.

A bake sale was planned for the month of July. During the social hour, Mrs. Andrew Schaffer received the door prize. Mrs. Henry Fikentscher, Mrs. Clayton Snyder, Mrs. P. W. Meixell were prize winners of the contests.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Greenamoyer, Gloria, and Mrs. Marsh to the following: Mrs. Willard Raseley, Mrs. Henry Fikentscher, Mrs. Andrew Schaffer, Mrs. Clayton Snyder, Mrs. Ambrose Altamus, Mrs. Isaac Smith, Mrs. Harold Altomose, Mrs. Fred Larsen, Mrs. Russell Kresge, Mrs. P. W. Meixell.

A doggie roast will be held on July 16 for Pollyannas and their families, at Mt. Eaton picnic grounds. The last 20 chapters of Exodus will be subject to quiz at this time.

Family Plans Reunion At Centennial

The annual Courtwright-Treible family reunion will be held Sunday, June 24, at the Zion Lutheran church, Smithfield, and will be coordinated with the centennial celebration of the church's founding.

The family reunion will be an all-day affair with a noon covered dish dinner. The families will then attend the Homecoming Day church services at the church at 2:30 p.m.

Descendants of all the pioneer families who helped to organize the old church on the hill overlooking the Delaware, have been invited to return for the homecoming celebration. The Courtwright and Treible families are among those descendants.

Married Couples Meet at Nauman's

Henryville — The Young Married Couples of the Paradise charge held a hot dog roast at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Nauman on Tuesday night, June 19. It was decided that during the summer months all meetings will be held out of doors.

Next month's meeting will be in the form of an outdoor picnic at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bisbing on Tuesday night, July 17.

Those present were: the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Nauman and children, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Post and children, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bisbing and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Courtwright.

Sunshine Class Picnic Tuesday

The Sunshine class of the East Stroudsburg Methodist church will hold a picnic on Tuesday night, June 26, at 6 o'clock, at the East Stroudsburg playground.

In case of rain, it will be held in the church parlor. The hostesses will be: Mrs. Marie Reyn-

Public Health Nurse Board Elects DePuy, Mrs. Dunning

The Monroe County Organization of Public Health Nursing added to the official board a new secretary, Mrs. Roger Dunning, and a new treasurer, C. Edward DePuy, at a meeting held in the board room at the General Hospital.

Paul Dellaria, president of the board, presided at the meeting when Miss Virginia Culver, executive director of the service, suggested several ways of making the service known throughout the county. Miss Culver and Mrs. Warren Loney are available for nursing visits to all homes in the county weekdays from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., and Saturdays from 8 a.m. to 12 noon. The new headquarters are at the General Hospital.

There was also a discussion of the Public Health Bill now before the state legislature, which the board endorsed. Mr. Dellaria read an editorial from the Daily Record concerning the bill, and Mrs. LeRoy Koehler also read editorial comment. The individual members of the board will be asked to write to Representative Shotwell and State Senator Crowe asking their support of the bill.

Mrs. Koehler gave the report of the nursing committee.

Supper On Lawn For Missionary Society, West End

Brookheadville — The Women's Missionary society of the Zion Lutheran church, Brookheadville, met at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Altomose on Tuesday night.

A covered dish supper was served on the lawn and enjoyed by the following: Mr. and Mrs. George Dold, Mrs. Fred Thomas, Mrs. Mary Flory, Mrs. Joseph Stahle, Mrs. Minnie Serfas, Rev. and Mrs. Bergstresser and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Varney, Mrs. Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Nevin Dorshimer and son, Woodrow Mill, Mrs. Alice Mill, Mrs. Marguerite Iiter, Mrs. Clarence Hill, Miss Ella Mill, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kresge and son, Miss Sallie Serfas, Mrs. Robert Altomose, Mrs. Frank Dainty, Mrs. Oliver Christman, Mrs. Claude Miller, George Kunkle and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Altomose.

After supper the members of the society retired to the living room, where the meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Varney. The devotions were in charge of Mrs. Mary Flory. Three new members were welcomed into the society: Mrs. Frank Dainty, Mrs. Nelson and Mrs. Bergstresser. A life membership was presented to the society by the Easton District. After the business meeting Mrs. Lloyd Altomose, the program chairman, had charge of the meeting assisted by Mrs. William Kresge.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Ella Mill, on July 17.

Scholastic Honors For Rima Maxwell

Six years of school work compressed into three, and a scholarship to Mount Holyoke which she will enter this fall shortly after her 16th birthday is the record of Miss Rima Maxwell, now with her mother, Mrs. Toni H. Maxwell at their summer cottage at Mimsink Hills.

Rima not only compressed her studies, but did so in two countries. She attended laboratory school at East Stroudsburg State Teachers college while her mother was a student there. After completing sixth grade, she entered a private school in England, near her mother's former home. Starting at this level, she completed the full college preparation in three years. Her headmaster accredited her remarkable record not only to her natural ability but also to the excellent foundation of her elementary education.

Returning to the United States last summer, and still too young for college, she spent this past school year in Candor, N. Y., where her mother is a teacher. She took a post graduate course in science, shorthand, typing and Spanish, and continued her work in French in nearby Ithaca.

She received her scholarship to Mount Holyoke in recognition of her remarkable scholastic record and the ratings she achieved in the New York state regents examinations taken this past year. All of her ratings were outstanding, including a 95 per cent she achieved in a French examination.

Fellowship Plans Summer Social Events

Saylorsburg — The Youth Fellowship of Saylorsburg met on Monday night at St. Peter's Evangelical United Brethren church, Saylorsburg, with 17 members present.

Jerry Fritz, president, was in charge of the business meeting. Plans were made for the social events for July and August. A swimming party and doggie roast will be held July 3, at Saylors Lake. A bake sale will be sponsored by Y.F., Saturday, July 7, at Frank Schicks store, and Thomas Brinton's store.

Rev. Harold Ulmer received applications for Highland Park. Young people desiring to attend should contact him no later than Sunday, June 24. Choir practice followed the meeting.

Sgt. Maaser Praised By Commanders

Sgt. Peter F. Maaser, husband of the former Miss Dorothy Frantz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur N. Frantz, 75 Elk St., East Stroudsburg, has been cited by commanders of the Seventh Infantry Division in Korea.

A member of the 707th Ordnance Maintenance Co. of that division, Sergeant Maaser was cited for distinguishing himself by meritorious achievement Sept. 15, 1950 to April 15, 1951.

The citation noted that as chief of a classification section, Maaser exhibited outstanding ability in supervision of the section. His leadership, ability and attitude contributed immeasurably to success of units assigned to a special mission.

Through his untiring efforts, the citation reads, and willingness to assist, his section classified and requisitioned about 10,000 small arms and other major ordnance items and assemblies. He served 20 hours a day for a long period of time to accomplish the important assignment.

Mrs. Maaser and three sons reside with Mr. and Mrs. Frantz at 75 Elk St., East Stroudsburg.

PRACTICAL LESSONS in the democratic way of treating prisoners of war is learned in clean and well-fed comfort by these North Koreans and Chinese Communists. At a United Nations internment camp, one prisoner (top) performs on the horizontal bars for his fellows. Personal cleanliness is enjoyed (bottom) where the captured Reds wash their clothes with freely provided soap and water.

House Passes Tax Measure

Big as the bill is, it represents less than half the $16,500,000,000 in additional taxes President Truman called for last winter. Later, as collections from present rates came in at an unexpectedly large volume, he lowered his sights to a $10,000,000,000 boost.

The government's total collections in the next fiscal year are expected to reach $66,300,000,000.

Over a year's operation, individual income taxpayers would pay 12½ per cent or one-eighth more than they do at present. But since the bill sets the effective date of the increase on next Sept. 1, thus applying to only one-third of 1951 income, the increase in tax liability this year would be only 4 per cent.

As an example, a man who paid $300 income tax on his 1950 income and whose income remains unchanged for the two succeeding years would pay $332 for 1951 and $300 for 1952. He would simply figure his tax under the present rates then add the percentage increase which applies.

The corporate tax rate applying to the first $25,000 of income would rise from 25 to 30 per cent. On income above $25,000, the combined normal and surtax rate would go up from 47 to 52 per cent. The effective maximum rate of the excess profits tax, for firms subject to that levy, would rise from 77 to 82 per cent.

A bigger percentage of some companies' earnings would be subject to the excess profits levy. The excess profits credit drops to include only 75 per cent of 1946-49 earnings, rather than 85 per cent, and the tax applies to all above that credit. The government would be allowed to take up to 70 per cent, rather than 62 per cent, of a company's earnings in normal taxes, surtaxes and excess profits taxes. The corporate tax increases would be retroactive to Jan. 1, 1951.

Consumers would be jolted by higher excise taxes.

The cigaret tax would rise from seven cents a package to eight cents; the rate on automobiles from seven per cent of the manufacturers' price to 10 per cent; whisky and other hard liquor from $9 a 100-proof gallon to $10.50; beer from $8 to $9 a barrel; gasoline from 1½ to two cents a gallon. And there were others. These increases cannot take effect until the bill becomes law.

The tax on telegrams would be reduced from 25 per cent to 20 per cent. Baby oils, powder and lotions would be exempted from the toiletries tax. The tax on electrical energy would be repealed.

In the hunt for new revenue, the bill calls for a 10 per cent tax on the take of bookmakers, "numbers" operators and lottery operators. Each such professional gambler would have to pay a $50 a year occupational tax, and so would each of his agents or runners. Heavy penalties are provided for violators.

The effective maximum rate of the capital gains tax goes up from 25 to 28½ per cent, in line with the one-eighth boost in income taxes. But homeowners would not have to pay the tax on any profit they made on the sale of their personal residences, provided they reinvested the profit in another home within a year.

"Single" taxpayers with family responsibilities, such as widows with dependent children, would be extended one-half of the income tax benefits available to married couples through income-splitting.

The bill makes an effort to plug a major revenue leak by authorizing source withholding of 20 per cent of all dividend and royalty payments, and some interest payments. The money withheld would be applied against the payee's income tax. Income from corporate stocks and bonds is the main thing affected. The withholding does not apply to bank interest or the interest on U. S. savings bonds.

Eight County Farms Enter PMA Contest

Eight farms in the Monroe county area have already entered the 1951 "green pastures" contest sponsored by the Monroe County Production and Marketing Administration, the PMA announced here yesterday.

This enrollment was described by the county administration as an "average enrollment" for counties throughout the State, but hope was expressed for a late surge of participants which will put the Monroe competition ahead of other counties both in number of participating farms and volume of acreage in competition.

To this end, the local PMA office yesterday mailed 150 letters explaining the contest to farmers in all parts of the county.

Deadline for registration will be July 1 and the first phase in a series of periodic judgments will take place shortly after that date.

Orien Reish, Stroudsburg RD 2 farmer, was the winner of the 1950 "green pastures" contest here, the committee recalled yesterday. Others who placed in last year's contest were Marlin Serfass, Stroudsburg RD 2, second; Robert T. Blum, Stroudsburg RD 3, third, and Arlington W. Martin, Effort, fourth.

Shawnee

Mrs. John Sorenson, of Jamaica Estates, Long Island, N. Y., formerly of Shawnee, and her three daughters, Giovana, Judy and Joy arrived on Sunday to spend the week with Mr. and Mrs. Minard Flor at Eagle Rock cottage. Fred Flor graduated from Columbia University last week with a degree of master of science and is leaving for Columbus, Ohio, where he will be an electrical engineer with the Columbus Electric Co.

David Leventritt and his daughter Ann, have been spending two weeks at Binnickill lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Stark Michaels have their daughter, Mrs. Robert Seitz, of Cold Springs, N. Y., and her two little children, Linda and Laurie, visiting them for a week and also their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Mills, who have returned home from Pittsburgh. Their other daughter Marilyn, returned from Penn State College last week and will commence a special training course with the Sears Roebuck Co. in Allentown in July.

Col. and Mrs. Albert Daykin, of Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, left on Wednesday after spending a week visiting Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Cramer.

Mrs. Harry Obitz left by plane last week for a month's visit at her home in Red Rock, Neb.

Mrs. Oliver Bowers, of Kenton, Ohio, with her twin sons, Oliver and Furman, and another son, Edmund Norman Rondo, are spending two weeks visiting her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Dudley King.

Water Gap Borough Buys Weed Killer

Delaware Water Gap — This is the time of year when poison ivy can most effectively be destroyed by the use of weed killer. The borough council of Delaware Water Gap has purchased another supply of ammate to be used for this purpose. They request that property owners cooperate in an attempt to rid the borough of this very obnoxious weed.

Residents may purchase a supply of ammate from the borough and the council will furnish the equipment to be used to spray the ivy.

While much of the region was sprayed last year and a quantity of the weed killed, it takes at least two years to completely destroy them in most places. By spraying at this time much of the spreading of the weeds can be stopped.

Citizens are requested to get in touch with Fred Decker or any one of the members of council to secure the supplies.

Delaware Water Gap

Gertrude Wright

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Neidorf and son, Danny, have returned to their home from Chicago, where they attended the graduation exercises of the University of Chicago at which time Robert Neidorf was graduated.

Tova and Billy Hammerman are spending a few weeks in Cleveland, Ohio, visiting their grandparents.

A committee from the fire company spent a day recently in New York City purchasing supplies for the annual carnival to be held this summer. While in New York, they attended a ball game.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hauser, Mrs. Stella Swoboda and Mrs. Stella Brodhead enjoyed a picnic on Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Noble, in Sterling, Pa.

Learn Buys 30-Acre Tract In Township

Dale H. Learn, East Stroudsburg, Pa., has purchased a 30-acre tract in Price township, according to a deed placed on file here yesterday at the office of Register and Recorder Floyd Butz.

Dorothy A. and Michael Repchak, of East Stroudsburg, conveyed title to the tract to Dale H. and Pauline G. Learn and, according to the deed description, the land comprises part of the premises which the late Henry Lesoine by his last will and testament drawn Aug. 30, 1910, bequeathed to his six sons.

Harry Marvin, East Stroudsburg, executor of the last will and testament of the late Stewart H. Marvin, took title yesterday to an East Stroudsburg property conveyed to him individually by the estate. The premises were identified as the same which Richard L. Brush and wife transferred to the late Stewart H. Marvin and wife on April 1, 1929.

H. Murray Abeloff also sold a section comprising approximately one and eight tenths acres on the Snyder'sville-Sciota stretch of Route 209 to Fred H. and Charlotte Balke, of Hamilton township.

Supervisors Oppose Truck Weight Bill

Harrisburg (AP) — The Pennsylvania State Association of Township Supervisors yesterday opposed a bill before the Legislature to increase truck weight limits.

"Passage of the bill would be extremely harmful to the 10,000 bridges and 41,000 miles of roads in the State's townships," said H. A. Thompson, secretary for the association.

Township roads and bridges were built to handle passenger cars and light farm and delivery trucks, Thomson said, adding:

"They were never designed to handle even the present 45,000 pound weights, let alone the proposed increase to 60,000 pounds."

The trucking bill, now up for Senate debate, would increase the weights for commonly used trucks but would retain the 60,000 pound overall limit on other trucks.

In addition, it would crack down on violators of truck weight laws by making penalties more severe.

Thompson charged that the "greatest damage occurred when some long-haul trucker, often from out of State, used side roads to avoid being weighed by State police."

"Hardly a week goes by," he said, "but we read of some bridge collapsing under the over-the-limit weight of a highway boxcar."

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Ray Steele's second appearance in the mound this season should draw large crowds to Gordon Giffels field tomorrow, when Pocono A.C. plays host to Johnsonville. A couple of weeks ago this game would have meant very little if anything to local fans, but it is an entirely different story at the present time. Steele hurled a one-hit contest last Sunday, in his first start for Pocono A.C., and since the lanky right hander has drawn the interest of major league scouts, he in turn has drawn the intense interest of local followers of the great sport of baseball.

The presence of Johnsonville means a little more at this date also as the club won its only game of the season on Wednesday, by a 3-2 margin over Portland. Tomorrow's visiting aggregation lost a 7-5 verdict to Stockertown on Thursday, but the team has proven that it is vastly improved over the one that opened the present campaign. Although Pocono A.C. bowed through the first few innings of the initial meeting of the two foes, the charges of Manager John Schoonover failed to finish strong to gain a 6-5 victory over Johnsonville.

Johnsonville plays all its games in the road at the present time, due to the fact that it hasn't a suitable home diamond to play on at this juncture of the season. Tom Foley, East Stroudsburg resident, also drawing more than a passing interest from major league scouts, even before he won his only two starts for Roseto, both well pitched contests. Bob Muhr, southpaw hurler for Roseto, has turned down at least one major league scout's offer and at least the same number of requests to join a minor league organization this year. Muhr wants to stay at home with his butcher business in Bethlehem.

Jack Mattes, infielder with Berwick, of the North Atlantic League, last year, is currently working out with Sunbury, of the class "B" Inter-State League. Mattes was one of the best players on the Berwick roster during the 1950 campaign. Stan Dudas, former member of the Shawnee Inn pro staff, thrilled golfing enthusiasts by shooting a 70 at Elkview Country club, while home on a weekend pass last week. Stan's driving ability reportedly was the talk of the area. Dudas, currently stationed at Fort Meade, Md., is a native of Simpson.

Jimmy Thompson, veteran long-hitting pro, has spent several days at Shawnee Inn this week and gave a couple exhibitions of real power, although the former money winning great was hitting them as far and as straight as if each ball in turn was shot out of a cannon. Charley Baum, head man of Baum's Sporting Goods, Sunbury, made a big impression at the Pocono Mountain league meeting last Monday, when he spoke to the group in Pennsylvania Dutch. One of the most interested parties attending the lectures of Everett Case, North Carolina State coach, was Frank "Hank" Porda, former star from East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, who graduated last month.

Forest Haney has turned in a wonderful job since being named umpire-in-chief of the Stroudsburg Little League. Umpires were far and few between before Haney has been named to the job, but now it's an entirely different story, as two umpires are on hand for every contest and each is very willing to work his hardest. The midge basketball demonstration given by Jay Archer and ten of his players made a big hit with the coaches at the eighth annual Eastern Pennsylvania Scholastic Coaches clinic at ESSTC on Thursday.

Paul McGovern, basketball star at ESSTC during the past three of four seasons, continues to have the inside track for the Carbonate Catholic Youth Center director's job, as reported in this column some time ago. Barney Lutz, pilot of the 1949 Carbondale entry in the North Atlantic league, is finding it virtually impossible to lift his Lima, O. team out of the cellar in the class "C" Ohio-Indiana league. Ralph Guyton, hard hitting left fielder for Hazleton, North Atlantic league, last year, has switched from that field to right for the Lancaster Red Sox in the class "B" Inter-State league.

Eddie Christoff, former Nazareth, North Atlantic league, catcher and outfielder, is filling similar positions with Pocatiello, of the class "C" Pioneer league. According to the latest averages, Christoff, a native of Northampton, is hitting at a .317 clip, with nine home runs, one triple and seven doubles. Pocatiello is a member of the St. Louis Cardinals farm system.

ESSTC won't meet Panzer in football next season, due to the fact that the East Orange, N.J. school is dropping the sport for at least one year. Herman Hickman, Yale's head football coach, and an annual figure at the Eastern Pennsylvania Scholastic Coaches Association clinic a couple of years back, is leaving for Europe this week, where he will help put on several clinics for the GIs.

Robbins Advances Beyond First Round At Shawnee

Annual Clinic Ends Week Of Activity

Everett Case, highly regarded head basketball coach at North Carolina State, brought the eighth annual Eastern Pennsylvania Scholastic Coaches Association clinic to a close at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College yesterday, with three and one-half hours of lecturing on basketball.

Case's afternoon of work included films and lectures, both conducted in the ESSTC auditorium. Ben Carnevale, head cage mentor at Navy, also assisted Case in the final clinic session.

Movies

The films presented included last year's North Carolina State-Duke basketball game, the National Invitation Tournament final between Dayton and Brigham Young and the pro playoff between the New York Knickerbockers and Rochester Royals. The pro all-star game and the college all-stars against the Harlem Globetrotters were also featured.

Reds Decision Phillies, 3-2

Cincinnati (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds clustered all of their runs in the first inning last night to whip Philadelphia 3-2 and take over the Phils' fourth-place berth. Andy Seminick cracked his sixth homer over the leftfield fence for Philadelphia with none on in the third.

The Reds hung on for dear life after the first as the Phils chipped away the lead to one run. Seminick's homer narrowed the gap and a triple by Eddie Waitkus followed by Richie Ashburn's single produced the Quakers' second marker and chased Harry Perkowski in the eighth.

Frank Smith came on in the eighth and retired the next five men in order, striking out three. Starter Jojo Thompson, who was smeared with his fifth defeat, settled down wonderfully after the rough first inning and allowed only two harmless hits until he was yanked for a pinch-hitter in the eighth. The Reds' five-hit total was one less than the Phillies managed off Perkowski. Jim Konstant set down the side for the Phils in the eighth.

Bob Usher started the Reds off in the first with a single. He stole second and scored on Johnny Wyrostek's hit. Thompson hit Klusczewski with a pitched ball next. "Red" Stalcup's ground out advanced both runners and they scored on Grady Hatton's single to center.

Fifty Entries To See Action At Delaware Valley Speedway

Fifty cars are scheduled to strut their exhaust at the Delaware Valley Speedway tomorrow, with the first qualifying heat listed for 2 p.m. The local track, located near the Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg Airport, has been hampered by frowns from the weatherman on at least two Sunday events, but has hopes of receiving the green light for tomorrow's action.

Added seats have been constructed during the present week to accommodate the crowds that are expected to pour into the local oval.

Good Condition The track is in good condition and if it doesn't rain tomorrow, those attending the show should see one of the best stock car programs in this part of the state.

Included in the large field will be such well known local drivers as Gene Comunal, Stroudsburg, and Zane Tallada, Tannersville.

Adults will be admitted for $1.25, while children must pay 40 cents to pass through the gate.

The newly constructed track is scheduled for action every Sunday and holiday for the remainder of the summer.

Syracuse Tennis Star Advances

Syracuse, N. Y. (AP)—Harold McGrath, Syracuse University sophomore, upset the Navy's Hank Goelz yesterday to enter the final round of the twenty-ninth Eastern Intercollegiate Tennis Tournament.

McGrath, Syracuse City champion, beat the Navy ensign, 6-1, 9-7, 6-1. Goelz was one of the four seeded players.

Other Match In the women's division of the tourney the two seeded players, Joy Valderrama of Temple University, and Barbara Friedberg of Miami University stroked their way into the finals.

Miss Valderrama, former Hawaiian junior champion, beat Ray McLean of Weleside, 6-0, 3-6, 6-0. Miss Friedberg, from Baltimore, trimmed Linda Rinehart of Wilson College, 6-2, 6-2.

Lights Delay Game

Pittsburgh (AP)—The flood lights at Forbes Field failed last night shortly before the Pittsburgh Pirates-Brooklyn Dodgers game was scheduled to get under way.

Officials of both clubs and umpires agreed to delay the game until the lights could be repaired.

O'Sullivan Surprises In Women's Western Open

Philadelphia (AP)—Pat O'Sullivan, a happy Irish colleen from Orange, Conn., upset medalist Louise Suggs yesterday and went into the finals of the Women's Western Open golf championship against heavily-favored Patty Berg.

The 23-year-old New England amateur, daughter of a Connecticut Supreme Court justice, startled a gallery of 1,200 by eliminating Miss Suggs, three-time champion from Carrollton, Ga., four and two.

Miss Berg, meanwhile, conquered an attack of putting jitters to oust Marjorie Lindsay, 26-year-old Illinois amateur champion from Decatur, Ill., five and three.

Bosox Inflict First Loss On Gumpert

Boston (AP)—Vern Stephens' two-run homer snapped previously unbeaten Randy Gumpert's seven game pitching streak and gave the Boston Red Sox a 6-5 victory over the top place Chicago White Sox last night in the opener of a four game series. The loss cut the Chicago lead over the New York Yankees to two and a half games.

Stephens circuit, blow, his tenth of the season, came after Ted Williams had scored Billy Goodman with a two bagger to left field in the fourth inning. Gumpert, who had been knocked out of the box without penalty by the St. Louis Browns in April, was replaced by Luis Aloma in the fifth inning.

Lefty Mel Parnell, who gave the Red Sox their previous win in seven previous starts against the Chisox, weakened in the eighth but was given effective relief assistance by Ellis Kinder.

The White Sox banged Parnell for three runs in the third on singles by Bob Dillinger, Nelly Fox and Orestes Mino's third homer of the campaign. Before Kinder took over, Don Lenhardt and Jim Busby drove in Mino and Eddie Robinson to cut the Red Sox lead to one run.

Busby's blow was a double and Kinder found him on second and Robinson on third with Chico Carrasquel up and two out. Carrasquel lashed a terrific drive that sent Williams back to the left field wall for a spectacular game saving catch.

Yankees Win Over Indians

New York (AP)—Allie Reynolds pitched his second straight shut-out for the New York Yankees last night, 6-0, holding the Cleveland Indians to six hits. Bob Feller suffered his second loss of the season.

As the league-leading Chicago White Sox lost to Boston, the Yankees moved to within two and one-half games of first place.

Big Night Jerry Coleman drove home half the Yanks runs and Yogi Berra hit his eleventh homer in the attack that snapped Feller's six-game win streak, his only previous loss came at Boston, May 19.

Reynolds, a shutout winner over Detroit Sunday, was in command all the way enroute to his seventh victory. All six Indian hits were singles. It was the tenth shutout by the Yankee staff and Reynolds' third.

The Yanks ripped into Feller for eight of their ten hits with Gene Woodling, Bobby Brown and Coleman doing most of the damage.

It was Cleveland's ninth loss in a row at Yankee Stadium over a two-year span since Bobby Lemon beat the Yanks at New York last July 14.

Zernial Leads A's To Victory

Philadelphia (AP)—Gus Zernial's booming bat featured the Philadelphia A's 5-2 victory over St. Louis last night as the burly outfielder pounded two home runs, his twelfth and thirteenth of the season, and a single to chase home three of the winner's markers.

Both of Zernial's round trippers were made on first pitches to him by righthander Al Widmar. Each came with the bags empty.

Philadelphia took a 1-0 lead in the first inning as Eddie Joost walked, went to third on Elmer Valo's double and tallied on an infield out.

Tie Score St. Louis got the equalizer in the third on Johnny Ber's single, a sacrifice by Al Widmar, an infield out and a fielding error by Lou Klein.

The Browns took a 2-1 edge in the fourth on Matt Batts' single, Ken Wood's double and a hit by Hank Arft. Zernial created a deadlock by leading off Philadelphia's fourth with his first home run.

A single by Joost, Widmar's miscue, Zernial's safety and infield bingle by Ferris Fain accounted for two runs in the Athletics' fifth.

Zernial then blasted his second homer in Philadelphia's eighth. Fain also had three hits for Philadelphia, boosting his average to .363.

Qualifying Sessions For Glen Brook Tournament Open Today

Qualifying sessions for the Glen Brook Country Club championship tournament will begin today and will last for the next two weeks. It was announced last night by Mike Rubish, club professional. Rubish stated that he was holding the club championship much earlier than usual this year, in an effort to give the winner prestige during the same season that he reigns as champion.

DETROIT RUNS OVER SENATORS

Washington (AP)—Detroit pounded on Fred Sanford for six runs in the first inning and defeated Washington, 7-3 last night. George Kell and Dick Kryhoski, with three hits each, paced the Tigers' 11-hit attack.

Ted Gray required relief from Hal White in the eighth inning but won his third decision. Sanford, recently acquired by the Senators from the Yankees, was dealt his fourth loss against one victory.

Hit Hard Sanford was mauled for five hits in the first inning. Johnny Groth walked, and after Jerry Priddy struck out, Kell singled. Vic Wertz's single scored Groth and Pat Mullin's double produced another run. Kryhoski was passed intentionally to fill the bases and after Aaron Robinson popped out, Johnny Lipon doubled, scoring Wertz and Mullin. Gray's single scored Kryhoski and Lipon and sent Sanford out.

The Tigers boosted their lead to 7-0 in the fourth against Sandy Consuegra when Kell singled, moved around to third on a walk and a grounder and scored on Kryhoski's outfield fly.

Washington scored its three runs in the seventh on Irv Noren's double, singles by Mike McCormick, Mickey Vernon and Mike Guerra, plus a walk, a wild pitch and a passed ball.

Veteran, Rookie Drivers To Battle At Sunrise Speedway

Blakeslee—Rookie and veteran speedsters alike will clash here at Pocono Sunrise Speedway tomorrow, when the track features its weekly stock car derby, with the time trials beginning at 1:30 and the first qualifying heat at 2:30 p.m.

The gates are wide open to all qualified cars and drivers, as those wishing to make their initial start on this track being as welcome as the veteran campaigners, providing their cars pass the speedway's qualification exam.

Each week the Pocono Sunrise Speedway presents a host of outstanding drivers, such as Fred Fehr, Allentown, a former midge kingpin; Johnny Cabral, Paterson, N. J., 1950 champion of the Atlantic Stock Car club and Jack Brewer, a former expert class motorcycle racer from Easton.

Some of the other well known drivers at this track, scheduled to compete again tomorrow, are Doug Condon, Carbondale; Charley Wuchter, Bath; Russ Eggett, Mt. Pocono; Paul Snyder, Tamaqua, and Joe Fabiani, Scranton.

Moving Toward Possible Match With Taylor

Tom Robbins, medalist in the twenty-eighth annual Shawnee Invitation Golf tournament, opened quest of his first title here yesterday with a convincing eight and six victory over John Dobbs, Bay-side, L.I. The 58-year-old Larchmont, N.Y., par-buster, played steady golf in following up his brilliant first day score of 71 with a clear cut victory in the first round of action.

Ellis Taylor, Delaware State Amateur Champion from Newark, Del., moved into the quarter-final round with Robbins, but Taylor, who shot a 74 in the qualifying round, had a much more difficult task, as he was called upon to go 19 holes with Orin Cerrochini, Oakland Hills, L. I., before winning by a one-cup margin.

Jim Raymond, who fired a 73 during the qualifying round, was dropped from the tournament yesterday by Gerald Peet, veteran campaigner from Easton. Peet won by a six and five count.

Other Results Dr. Ben Pastorini, New York, took the measure of Bill Hamon, Scarsdale, N. Y., by a four and three margin, while Tom Baches, Titusville, N. J., scored one-up decision over John Dimmick, Binghamton, N. Y., but once again it required 19 holes to decide the match.

Frank Allan, West Pittston, eliminated Don Strafaci, New York, by a four and three count, while Don Allan, also of West Pittston, was defeated by George Benish, New York, two and one. The final championship flight match featured Lionel McDuff, Lynn, Mass., a one-up victory over Allentown's "Stew" Jenkinson.

Two rounds are on tap today, the morning action beginning at 9, and featuring Robbins against McDuff; Taylor meeting Pastorini; Peet playing Baches and Allan clashing with Benish. The semifinal round will be held this afternoon and the final struggle tomorrow morning.

In addition to the championship flight, eight other flights are being featured in this year's Invitation program.

Ralph "Pete" Arnold, Stroudsburg, playing in the second flight, won over John Van Vechten, by a three and two count, but all the other local entries went down to defeat.

The list of the local defeated included Augie Lockwitch, Joe Barnes and Bill Nixon, all of Stroudsburg, and Walt Peeney and Larry Ross, both of East Stroudsburg. Only six local entries were in the field.

Pocono A. C. Home Tomorrow

Johnsonville To Provide Opposition

Pocono A. C. will go in search of its tenth Blue Mountain league victory of the season tomorrow, when the charges of Manager John Schoonover take on Johnsonville, currently holding the fort in the circuit's basement. The contest, to be held at Gordon Giffels field, will get underway at 2:30 p.m.

Ray Stelle, one-hit victor over Portland last Sunday, will again be the rubber for the number two club in the standings, as he attempts to win his second start for the A. C. contingent.

The infield will find Danny Epley at first base, Dewey Martling, second base; Jimmy Wertheiser, shortstop, and Tom "Elmer" Bonser at third base. John Drews will again occupy his familiar catching position.

Exhibition
Manager Schoonover announced last night that plans had been completed for an exhibition with the Washington club, of the Tri-County League. The game will be played on Tuesday night, at Giffels field, with the starting time set for 8:30.

Washington is currently tied for first place in the circuit, sharing the top berth with Riegel Ridge. Both teams are sporting records of nine wins and three setbacks, while at the present time Pocono A. C. has an identical mark of nine marks on the winning side of the ledger and three in the losing column.

In addition to the Pocono A. C. Johnsonville encounter, three other contests will be on the Blue Mountain League agenda tomorrow, all beginning at 2:30 p.m. Roseto and East Bangor will engage in an important battle on the latter's home field, while Portland plays host to Tatamy, as the Apollos attempt to move forward once again. The last, but far from least, contest on tomorrow's agenda will send Stockertown against West Bangor, at Bangor's Memorial Park.

Mays Slams Three-Run Homer In Tenth Frame As Giants Gain Decision Over Chicago, 9-6

Chicago (AP) — Rookie Willie Mays broke up a see-saw struggle with a three-run homer in the tenth inning yesterday to give the New York Giants a 9-6 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

The lean Negro flycatcher, with the Giants less than a month, connected off the veteran "Dutch" Leonard. Singles by "Whitey" Lookman and Ray Noble preceded

Circuit Blows

The Cubs had tied the game 6-6 in the ninth inning when Hal Jeffcoat hit a two-run homer off reliever George Spencer, who gained his fourth victory when Mays connected.

Monte Irvin and Billy Rigney also smacked homers for the Giants, who snapped a modest two-game losing streak. Irvin's belt, a three-run job, capped a five-run fourth inning that overcame a 3-0 Chicago lead.

The Cubs had belted starter Sal Maglie for four hits and three runs in the third inning.

Mountain Loop In Full Slate

Five games are on the agenda of the Pocono Mountain Baseball league tomorrow, with all playing an important part in the final standing of the circuit. In each case the game began at 2 p.m.

Kunkletown, with six victories and no defeats, will put its perfect record on the line against Anokmink, on the latter's home field in Henryville.

Tough Task

Lake Harmony and Pocono Lake will attempt to improve their second division standing at the expense of one another, but only one can turn the trick, as the two clubs clash on the Tobyhanna Township High school field.

Tannersville will see action at Saylorsburg, while Reeders and Tobyhanna clash on the latter's home field, at Coolbaugh High school.

The last, but not least, game on tomorrow's agenda will send Barreton against West End A. C., on the latter's home diamond, in Gilbert.

This same circuit will feature a full schedule next Sunday also.

Rain Halts Play In Little League

Rain halted action in both the Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg Little Leagues last night, at the Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg Playgrounds respectively.

Scores
The National Bank held a 6-3 lead over People's Coal Co. when the rains came at the end of the second inning in the Stroudsburg League, while Cramer's Lumber Co. held a 3-2 edge over the East Stroudsburg National Bank, before the East Stroudsburg contest was halted by rain at the end of the third inning.

Incel Sees Court Fight Over Water

Philadelphia (AP)—Irving V. A. Huie, president of the New York City board of water supply, told the Interstate Commission on the Delaware River (Incel) yesterday New York must go to the U. S. Supreme court to get water.

Huie said New York City had marked time on getting sufficient water from the Delaware river long enough while waiting for the Pennsylvania Legislature to take action on a pact. But New York can't wait any longer, he said.

New York went to the Supreme court in 1931 and got permission to divert 440,000,000 gallons a day from the Delaware. Huie said he will ask an additional 360,000,000 gallons daily, to give the city a total of 800,000,000 gallons.

New York, New Jersey and Delaware legislatures have acted on a proposed pact apportioning waters of the Delaware river to the various states. The proposal is still before the Pennsylvania Legislature.

Huie said he thought it unlikely Pennsylvania will do anything before 1953 and that will be too late for New York City.

Incel members told Huie his news was not pleasant to hear and they fear independent action by New York City will lead to a long, costly court fight. They expressed hope that in some way action by the Pennsylvania Legislature can be hastened.

Two Autos Collide At Intersection

Cars operated by Paul Heller, of Sciota, and Andrew Weingartner, of the Stroudsmoor hotel, Stroudsburg RD 2, collided at 4:05 p. m. yesterday on the sharp uphill grade at Fourth and Fifth Sts. on Sarah St., Stroudsburg.

Chief James McConnell, investigating for borough police, said there were no personal injuries and only slight damages to the two vehicles.

Heller, according to report, was traveling west on Sarah St. at Fifth St. when the Weingartner car struck the left side of his machine. Weingartner had approached the Fourth and Fifth St. region of Sarah St. from Fourth, and was making the short swing from the top of Fourth to the Fifth St. intersection when the accident occurred.

Automobile Leaves Highway, Kills Boy Standing In Grass

Costenbader Boy Killed; Driver Held

Little Gap — A four-year-old Kunkletown RD2 boy was injured fatally while at play here late yesterday when an out-of-control automobile left the highway and bore down upon him as he stood in a grassy strip between the highway and a field fence.

State police of the Lehighton substation said the youngster, David Costenbader, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Costenbader, was dead on arrival at Palmerton hospital.

The lad received fractures of the right leg and left arm, possible brain injuries, severe head lacerations and a crushed chest.

Carbon county coroner Harry Doll, of East Mauch Chunk, viewed the body of the victim last night and said that he will conduct an inquest at a later date.

Meantime, Pfc. Herbert Sohn, investigating trooper, arrested Emmett Serfass, of 1537 Washington St., Easton, and charged him with involuntary manslaughter.

Serfass, a 63-year-old railroad dispatcher, was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Howard LaFaw, of Little Gap, where he waived preliminary hearing pending action by the Carbon county court.

Trooper Sohn said the accident occurred at 5:15 p.m. as the Costenbader lad and other children played near their homes on the Little Gap-Danville road in Lower Towamensing township.

The Costenbader home is only 100 yards from the point where the Serfass car went off the road on a curve at the site of the Theodore Choplinki home.

Serfass told the troopers that he pulled far to the right as he entered the curve to give an approaching vehicle clearance. He swung right too far, however, and the car left the road, bouncing across the green strip where the children were playing, hitting the fence and then crushing the Costenbader lad.

The wheels of the vehicle missed the boy, but the undercarriage scraped and cut him and rolled him over.

Serfass and four women riding with him were unhurt. The passengers were identified as the driver's wife, Mrs. Emmett Serfass, Joan Dunbar, Carolyn Dunbar and Mrs. Irene Adams, all of Easton.

Trooper Sohn said another small boy, Kenneth Cristman, of Parryville, who is visiting relatives at Little Gap, witnessed the accident as he rode his bicycle up the road to the point where the Costenbader lad was playing.

Palmerton ambulance rushed the victim to the hospital. Police said he was one of two children, being survived by his parents and a 14-year-old sister.

British Seek Injunction

The Hague, The Netherlands, (AP) — Britain sent a King's messenger to the World court yesterday with a request for temporary measures to protect the Anglo-Iranian Oil company's rights in Iran.

Britain is seeking what amounts to an injunction against Iran. But Iran has declared the court has no jurisdiction in the case.

British RAF squadrons in the Suez canal zone were reported standing by, ready to take off at a moment's notice, as Iran made preparations apparently aimed at enforcing the nationalization law over the billion-dollar British-owned company.

The U. S. State department declared Russia was exploiting the oil nationalization dispute for the purpose of maneuvering her small neighbor "back of the iron curtain."

The company, through a British embassy spokesman at Tehran, warned the Iranian government the giant Abadan refinery might be forced to shut down because of "mass resignations" of British technicians.

Superintendent Of Police Suspended

Pittsburgh (AP) — Police Superintendent Harvey Scott was suspended yesterday after Judge Sara Soffel accused him of being drunk and belligerent during his appearance at a special grand jury hearing.

Britain Bars Water Babies

London (AP) — Florida water babies Bubba Tongay, five, and his sister Kathy, four, were tucked into a suburban hotel bed last night under technical arrest.

That's as near as they'll get, British officials indicated, to the English channel — at any rate from this side.

The children and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Tongay of Miami, Fla., were barred entry into Britain by immigration authorities at London airport following widespread protests over the Tongays' plans to send the two youngsters on a channel swim.

They were allowed to land under "technical custody," however, and spend the night in a nearby hotel. Immigration officials said this relaxation in the regulations was made because Mrs. Tongay and the children were tired after their flight from New York.

The officials announced the family will be put on a New York bound plane today. They gave no reason for the ban except that it was made under the aliens order—which gives wide powers to refuse entry to foreigners.

The announcement that a British holiday camp firm had sponsored a channel swim for the two Tongay kids led to widespread protests in both America and Britain. Home Secretary Chuter Ede was asked in the Commons to bar the family, but he gave no such pledge at the time.

Crowds of newsmen greeted the Tongays' plane.

They were the last to alight. Kathy in a blue dress and Bubba in yellow shirt with a cowboy holster at his waist, grinned happily.

Tongay, in royal blue trousers and gaily colored sports shirt worn outside his pants, posed with his family for photographers.

Girl Killed In Auto Accident

Bloomburg (AP) — Sixteen-year-old Marie Young of Benton died yesterday at Bloomburg hospital, the victim of an automobile accident.

Miss Young was injured fatally and two companions less seriously hurt when the car in which they were riding went out of control as they were on their way to a dance Thursday.

Miss Young's brother, Donald, 18, escaped injury, but James Miller, 18, and Joan Hartman, 15, were taken to the hospital, where their injuries were reported as not serious.

Gen. Ridgway Supported Mac

Washington (AP) — An official message disclosed yesterday that Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway supported Gen. Douglas MacArthur last December in urging an immediate invasion of Red China by Chinese Nationalist troops based on Formosa.

It was for publicly advocating this step—along with a naval blockade of China and the bombing of enemy bases in Manchuria—that President Truman fired General MacArthur last April 11.

General Ridgway at the time was field commander in Korea.

Senator Knowland (R-Calif.) put the Ridgway message into the record at the Senate inquiry looking into the dismissal of MacArthur and the whole broad range of the administration's Far East policies.

Ridgway agreed that Nationalist forces under Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek should be permitted "to operate without delay and without limitation against the mainland of South China."

The Nationalists have been "neutralized" on Formosa since last June 26 when President Truman dispatched the U.S. Seventh Fleet to guard the island from invasion by Chinese Reds and to prevent the Nationalists from invading the China mainland.

Formosa lies 100 miles off the China coast.

In another development at yesterday's inquiry, Senator Wiley (R-Wis.) charged in effect that Mr. Truman's "neutralizing" order led to the entry of Red China into the Korean war.

Wiley said that after the President "announced our policy of blockading Formosa and blockading China, the best Chinese (Communist) armies were moved up north and went into conflict in Korea against our troops."

Crime Probers Summon Warren To Washington

Miami, Fla., (AP) — Senate crime probers yesterday subpoenaed Gov. Fuller Warren to appear before them in Washington July 9 to tell what he knows about Florida's crime and whether gamblers contributed to his election.

The announcement came at the end of a two-day hearing of the Senate Crime committee here, and touched off a cheering demonstration by spectators.

It was the first time a state chief executive has been summoned for a mandatory appearance according to committee officials. Warren declined an invitation to appear at the Miami hearing which ended with the handing of the subpoena to Deputy U. S. Marshal Jack L. Peoples for service on the governor.

In Tallahassee, the governor was reported still resting at a "famous beach" but his office refused any other clue to his whereabouts. Nor would his staff hazard a guess whether he would choose to honor the subpoena and appear in Washington.

Referred To Senate

Washington (AP) — The Senate Banking committee, split over the future of the Reconstruction Finance Corp., put the question of its survival up to the full Senate yesterday.

Archbishop Confesses Armed Plot

Budapest, Hungary, (AP) — Archbishop Jozsef Groesz and three of his associates poured out hours-long confessions at the opening of their trial yesterday on charges that they plotted with American help to overthrow Hungary's Communist regime by armed revolt.

The 64-year-old archbishop, successor of Cardinal Mindszenty as head of the Roman Catholic church in Hungary, and eight co-defendants went on trial in the same courtroom and before the same presiding judge and prosecutor who tried the cardinal and American businessman Robert A. Vogeler.

The trial is before a court of first instance for capital crimes. With deliberate calm, Archbishop Groesz testified he gave the American legation a written promise he was willing to become the new chief of state in Hungary and even submitted to the Americans a list of men he proposed to take into his government.

His three co-defendants who admitted guilt yesterday testified in just as cool and collected a fashion.

Archbishop Groesz apparently was arrested about the middle of May. His trial and confession appear to have been prepared in an unusually short time. Vogeler, convicted on a spy charge in February, 1950, and released last April after serving 17 months of his 15-year sentence, has given the clear report of how these confessions are obtained. He described his own confession as "rubbish."

He said he was slapped, questioned, for hours without rest, food of sleep and was subjected to such physical, moral and mental pressure that his will to resist was gradually worn away. He said no drugs or injections were used.

Western diplomats in Vienna said the trial apparently is part of the steady Communist campaign to undermine the Roman Catholic church by pressure and infiltration until it is the voice of the Kremlin, not the Vatican.

The No. 2 defendant, Endre Farkas, 65, a lawyer described as an advisor on legal matters of the conspiracy, said the American legation promised a loan of $296,000,000 when the Groesz government should be established.

Argentina Nips 'Plot'

Buenos Aires (AP) — The Army ministry announced last night that five Argentine Army officers had been arrested on charges of plotting a revolt against the government of President Juan D. Peron.

The ministry announcement climaxed eight days of scare headlines in pro-government newspapers on reports that a plot was afoot to overthrow the government and assassinate Peron, his wife and other high officials.

It said those arrested were Capt. Francisco Figueroa de La Vega and four lieutenants, Atilio Jose Memichelli, Julio Enrique Villa Melo, Edgardo Arturo Fehrman and Alberto Atlas.

The ministry said the five were arrested in connection with an investigation of those participating in "a plan to create confusion and disrupt public order" which "had been disclosed in the newspapers."

It accused the arrested men of trying to draw other young officers into the plan to disrupt the army corps of officers to which they belong.

New York-Bound Airliner With 40 Aboard Vanishes Over Damp, Jungled Swamp

Dakar, French West Africa (AP) — A Pan American Constellation bound for New York lost its bearings and vanished with 40 persons early yesterday over a damp and jungled area at the base of the African hump, 500 miles north of the Equator.

French, Liberian and American fliers joined in a hunt for it. Native tribesmen fanned out around in the search.

The four-engine giant on a regular run from Johannesburg, South Africa, carried 31 passengers and a crew of nine Americans.

It disappeared in drizzly weather about 2:45 a.m. (11:45 p.m. Eastern Daylight Time Thursday) while it was seeking Roberts field, the airport for Monrovia, Liberia.

A regular stop had been made in the darkness at Accra, a Gold coast city 800 miles east of Monrovia.

(A dispatch from Accra reported the plane had landed at Roberts field and then took off for Dakar, 650 miles up the coast, but radioed there was interference on the radio beacon and turned back to Roberts field. A blackout came after the plane asked for landing instructions, according to Accra sources. The dispatch said a magnetos gave trouble on the way north from Johannesburg, but was changed at Accra.)

Company reports said there was a slight drizzle at Roberts field at the time the plane disappeared, with about three miles of visibility, and a 1,500-foot ceiling. The plane had fuel for seven hours of additional flying.

Young Nurse, Missing Two Weeks Without Food, Found Safe In Mountain Wilderness

Sevierville, Tenn., (AP) — Evangeline Lorimer, a young nurse who has practiced fasting, related yesterday that she stumbled through a Smoky mountain wilderness for the past 13 days without food.

Found after a widespread search, she told newsmen from her hospital bed a fabulous account of how she survived in the awesome Great Smoky Mountains National park with few ill effects.

The 21-year-old religious-minded nurse said the only things that passed her lips during the ordeal were water from mountain streams and two sour huckleberries. She lost 18 pounds.

She disappeared June 8 after setting out from her camp site to hike up spectacular Bunker hill deep in the park. As dusk fell, she said, she found herself lost in the dense, rock-strewn thickets.

An experienced hiker, she spent the first night on the bank of a stream, thinking a searching party would look there.

Clad in shirt, jeans and low white shoes, she said she wandered for days, occasionally "screaming my lungs out" when she thought she heard shouts. "No one heard. Then I prayed."

During the first week, "food didn't bother me," she said, "food is everybody so interested in food? It's not so important. Just experiencing, I had done without it for as long as a week before."

But the second week she was lost, "my stomach was sore on my backbone . . . I dreamed about food."

"I found nice places to sleep two nights on soft leaves under an overhanging rock," she said. But sometimes she was drenched by hard rains—"I just huddled up and was miserable."

Although the park is known for its bears, she saw only one. The most vicious attack came from insects and briars, and she blistered her feet. The hospital said she was in very good condition.

At last she saw a tiny trail twisting through the brush. As nightfall neared Thursday, she heard a cow bell tinkle in the distance and followed it to the house of a ranger. She was 10 miles from the camp site.

Duff Jibes GOP

Washington (AP) — Senator Duff of Pennsylvania took an implied poke at some of his fellow Republicans yesterday. He said it's time the Republican party adopted a policy that is "positive and affirmative, not merely negative and critical."

Washington (AP) — An administration bill to set up a $148,000,000 Air Force academy at a site yet to be selected was introduced yesterday by Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the House Armed Services committee.

Washington (AP) — Justice Jackson of the Supreme court late yesterday refused to stay prison sentences of the 11 U. S. Communist party leaders who were convicted of conspiracy.

The refusal clears the way for the Justice department to move for early imprisonment of the Red leaders. They could be locked up about July 1.

The 11 asked Jackson to stay the prison sentences until the Supreme court could act next fall on a request that it reconsider its June 4 decision affirming their conviction. The court is now in summer recess.

The Weather

Cloudy with showers and scattered thunderstorms today; high-est in low and middle 80s. Sunday cloudy and not quite as warm with showers or thunderstorms by afternoon or night.

Big Revenue Bill Sent To Senate

Washington (AP) — The House yesterday approved a record-breaking $7,200,000,000 tax increase, including a 12½ per cent boost in individual income taxes.

The measure, largest single revenue bill ever to come before Congress, now goes to the Senate, where the Finance committee plans to open hearings next week.

The vote on final passage of the bill was 233 to 160. It came after administration backers beat down, 220 to 171, a Republican move to send the bill back to committee.

On the motion to recommit, 15 Republicans and one independent joined 204 Democrats in opposition. Only one Democrat, Carmatz of Maryland, voted with 170 Republicans to recommit the bill.

On final passage, 36 Republicans and one independent joined with 196 Democrats in support of the bill, while 10 Democrats and 150 Republicans opposed it. (Rep. Francis E. Walter, D-Pa., voted for passage.)

Here is where the government would collect the additional money: Individuals, $2,847,000,000.

Corporate income and excess profits taxes, $2,855,000,000.

Excise taxes, $1,252,000,000.

Miscellaneous changes in the revenue laws, $245,000,000.

The bill, with two post-Korea tax bills passed previously, increases taxes by a total of $17,000,000,000.

It sped through the House in two days under procedure which prevented individual members from offering amendments. The recommendations of the tax-writing ways and means committee prevailed in every respect.

Republicans in general condemned the increase as inequitable and unnecessarily large. They argued that spending should be cut drastically before more taxes were piled on the people.

Democrats rejoined that the bill was fair and that every section reflected the judgment of a majority of the ways and means unit.

While Rep. Doughton (D-NC), chairman of that committee, insisted that the additional revenue is urgently needed to pay the bills of the nation's expanding preparedness drive, he said also that he thinks the $7,200,000,000 increase is about all the economy can stand at this time.

He told his fellow members they must "face up to the fact that any higher tax rates on either individuals or corporations or excises would be exceedingly burdensome and difficult to impose."

Doughton agreed with the Republican position.

HST Challenges Opponents Of Health Program

Bethesda, Md., (AP) — President Truman yesterday challenged opponents of his compulsory health insurance plan to "come up with a better proposal, or even one that is almost as good."

If they do, Mr. Truman said, "I'll go along with them."

The President stated his position in an address dedicating the National Institute of Health's new clinical center in Bethesda, a suburb of Washington. Later he laid the cornerstone of the $60,000,000 structure.

The President of the American Medical association replied that a better program than the President's compulsory health insurance plan "already is available and is functioning admirably—the American medical system which has made this the healthiest great nation in the world."

Community Service To Be Held Sunday

The second in the series of outdoor community services will be conducted at the LaBar's Rhododendron nursery on Sunday at 7 p. m. This series is becoming quite popular with the worshippers of Stroudsburg.

Tomorrow night the service will be in charge of Rev. Dr. R. N. Wohlsen, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, who will also bring the message. Special music will be provided by the Pocono Male chorus. An invitation is extended to all citizens to join in this outdoor service each Lord's day evening.

The pastors of the community are indebted to the several funeral directors of Stroudsburg for their cooperation in providing chairs. The service lasts only one hour in the beautiful natural setting of this beauty spot.

Only Week Remains To Invite Fresh Air Tots Into Homes

Hosts' Names To Be Listed Next Week

Names of hosts to New York City's tenement children who will come here July 10 for two-week vacation under auspices of Monroe County's Herald Tribune Fresh Air committee will be announced next week.

As hosts issue their invitations through June 29, the deadline for inviting the underprivileged children, their names will be listed by the committee. Children may be invited through The Daily Record coupon on Page 12 or by calling Station WVPO 1102.

John Wilson, general secretary of YMCA and chairman of the committee, said yesterday the next seven days offer the only opportunity for residents of Monroe County to open their homes and the Pocono mountains to children who have never seen anything of its kind except in picture books.

Every child is carefully selected by top social service agencies working for the New York Herald Tribune Fresh Air Fund. Every child is given a thorough physical examination. All transportation and medical care expenses are paid by the Fresh Air Fund.

A committee has been set up to welcome the youngsters at Gordon Ciffels Field with a box lunch and milk, pending their assignment to families who have invited them to this region.

Jury Ponders Murder Case

Allentown (P)—Jack L. Cernobyl, 17, was acquitted by a Lehigh county jury last night of the murder of Army Master Sgt. Raymond S. Noll last March 24.

Allentown (P)—Jury of six men and six women retired last night to deliberate the fate of Jack L. Cernobyl, 17, charged with murder in the fatal beating of Army Master Sgt. Raymond S. Noll last March 24.

In his summation to the jury, District Attorney Kenneth H. Koch asked for a verdict of first degree murder without the death penalty.

Paul McGinley, defending Cernobyl, called for acquittal of this bewildered young man.

Earlier in the day Cernobyl took the stand and pleaded self-defense in the beating of the soldier. He also denied taking Noll's watch and a cigarette lighter after the beating. This partly contradicted his signed confession.

In charging the jury, Judge James F. Henninger said the immoral character of the decedent "does not enter into the guilt or innocence of these young men. In spite of any immoral character his life is considered precious to the Commonwealth."

Stanley Marvin Jr., 20, co-defendant with Cernobyl, is slated to go on trial Monday morning.

Harker Resigns School Position

Blairtown, N. J. — Hilman H. Harker, has resigned as supervising principal of Blairtown schools. It was announced here yesterday after he submitted a request to be relieved of his duties to the Board of Education.

Principal Harker asked that his resignation be made effective August 1, so that he may accept a position of supervising principal of the school system at Lakewood, N. J.

At Blairtown, Mr. Harker suc-

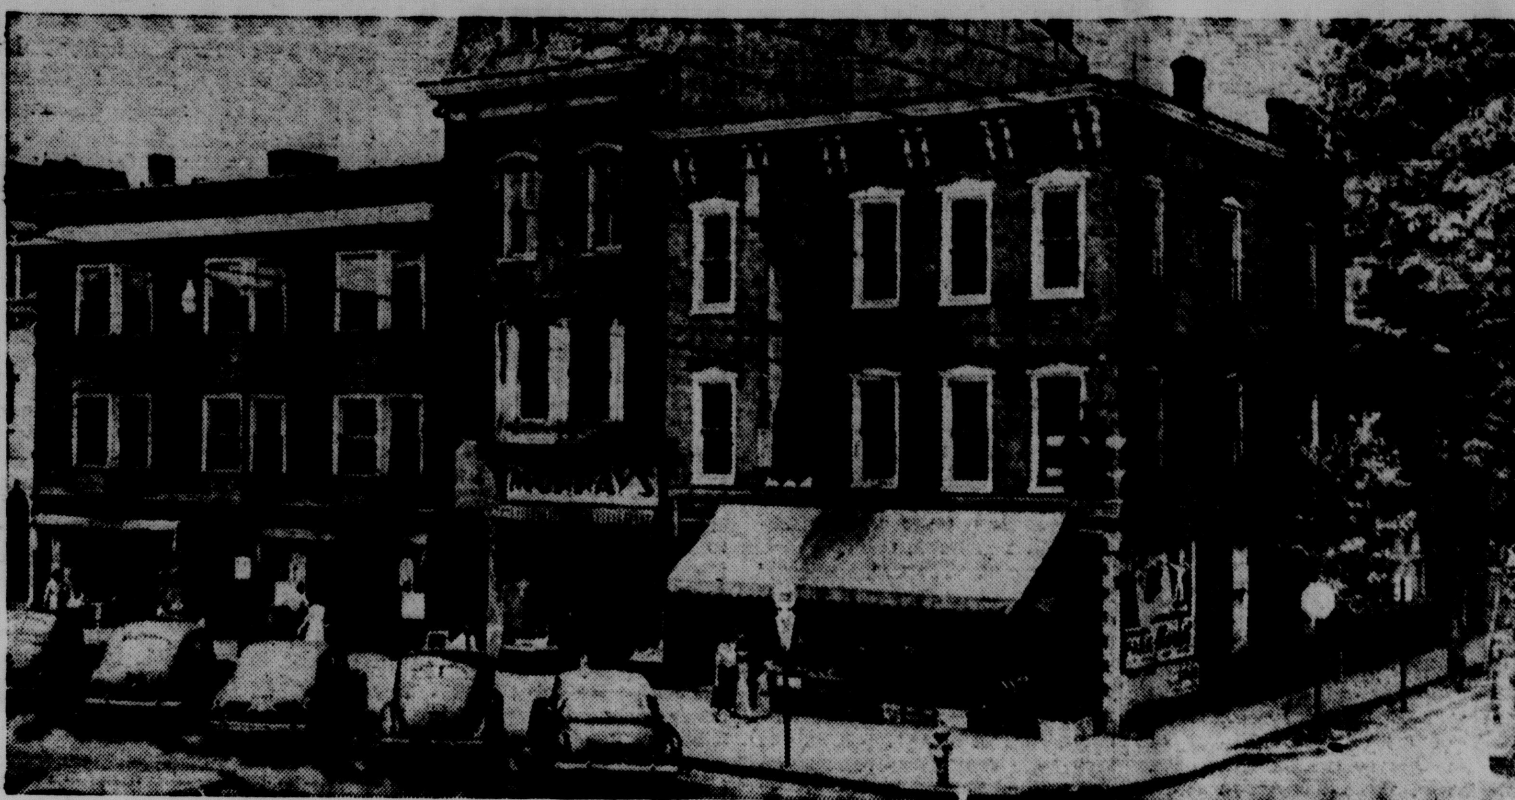

Woman Testifies Homeyer Proposed Marriage But Called It Off Because She Had No Money

Tunkhannock (P)—Mrs. Nancy Parker Myers, 47, of Milwaukee, Wis., yesterday testified in the trial of Charles E. Homeyer, 53, for the slaying of his wife, Anna.

Mrs. Myers told the stand to testify she held a mail romance with Homeyer during which he proposed marriage while, the Commonwealth charges, his wife was still alive.

Mrs. Myers told the court in a clipped British accent she and Homeyer began exchanging letters in August, 1949, when he answered an advertisement she placed in a publication called "Cupid's Delight."

She said she was a native of England who came to the United States in 1947. A divorcee at the time of the correspondence, she said she has since remarried.

DEMOLITION OPERATIONS of the two three- and one four-story buildings extending westward from Sixth St. along Main will start with a full force next week to make way for the modern two-story and basement J. J. Newberry building. Demolition work is expedited to take 40 working days. Esch Construction Co., Cleveland, Ohio, will erect the new building which replaces Mr. Newberry's first store, established in Stroudsburg in 1911 as the forerunner of a chain of nearly 500 merchandising centers. (Daily Record photo)

Hard Rains Wash Region

The first day of summer yesterday really left its mark this year around the Stroudsburg area. With the sun beaming down most of the day, no one paid much attention to the weather forecast which said "slight thunder showers late in the day."

About 6:30 p. m., however, hard rains deluged the region. The streets washed with a downpour of water that flowed into the gutters like a miniature river. Lightning flashes dimmed the lights at intervals and driving became hazardous.

Power and telephone service was disrupted in some sections. The power lines to Kunkletown, Palmyerton, Lehighton and other points west of here were out 30 minutes before they could be repaired. Near Nazareth, traffic was held up because of the wires across the road.

Three Cars In Collision

Three cars banged bumpers on Main St., in front of the Penn-Stroud hotel during the heavy rainstorm shortly before 9 last night.

Officer William Berger said one driver, blinded by the beating rain, stopped his car after pulling part way to the curb.

Driver of another car behind the parking vehicle saw the other vehicle in the unusual position and stopped. Two cars following didn't stop, however, and each cracked into the rear of the car in front.

Stroudsburg Pool Begins Swimming Lessons Monday

Mrs. Ruth Serfass, director of the Stroudsburg playground swimming pool, announced yesterday that swimming classes will begin Monday.

All interested people should report to the pool at 10 a.m. Monday for registration.

The following is a schedule that the pool will use this coming season.

Instruction for the swimmers in the intermediate class will be held from 10 to 11 a.m., Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. Swimming class for the beginners will be held from 11 a.m. to noon, Monday, Wednesday and Friday. Diving classes will take place from 10 to 11 a.m., Tuesday and Thursday. Junior and Senior life saving instruction will be from 11 a.m. to noon, Tuesday and Thursday.

Free swimming for all children up to the age of 18 will continue from 1 to 3 p.m. every day except Saturday, Sunday and holidays. The pool will be open to everyone from 1 to 8 p.m. weekdays and from 2 to 6 p.m., Saturday, Sunday and holidays. The kiddie pool under the supervision of Miss Virginia Robinson, will be open from 1 to 5 p.m. daily.

Fine will address the people on the subject "Budget and Taxes"—a subject which has stirred up a storm of controversy in the General Assembly.

The Governor's office announced he will speak over a statewide radio hookup Monday from 7 to 7:15 p. m. He will appear on a Philadelphia television station later the same night.

The Governor's office gave no advance details of his talk but it is expected to deal largely with Fine's reasons for seeking a proposed $119,000,000 State income tax. He contends the tax is needed to plug a gap in his $1,220,000,000 State budget for the next two years.

The income tax has created a wide split in the Republican majority in the State Senate. Opponents contend the budget can be balanced without imposition of any new taxes.

Elderly Woman Found By Police

The 78-year-old East Stroudsburg woman, reported as missing earlier this week, has been removed from police missing persons lists.

The woman, Ella Kreuger, 259 Broadhead Ave., East Stroudsburg, disappeared late Wednesday, but she was found early Thursday at 5 a. m. when Officer Elmer Brown found her sitting on a porch at the home of Mrs. Elsie Thulin, 342 Brown St.

She was taken to her own home in dazed condition.

Building Fund Leaders Meet

Brodheadsville — The West End Fire Co. building fund committee held a meeting last night at Chestnut Hill High school.

Sheriff Amzi F. Altomero, chairman of the committee, announced that the goal set for the campaign was $30,000.

Three townships will be covered. They are Chestnut Hill, with Henry Huffman in charge; Polk, with Harry Young as the chairman; and Eldred, in charge of Rufus Meckes.

All residents and property owners are being asked to contribute. The campaign ends July 2.

Seventy-five volunteers were present to hear Wilbur Warner, Lehighton postmaster, give a short talk.

operated it as part of the "Top chain through the 1950 season."

For years, the Reenleigh with its spacious porches and excellent views of the Water Gap and Cherry Valley, specialized in serving Sunday dinners. These meals, served on the verandas, attracted many visitors from the Stroudsburgs and also from distant points.

Mr. Brislin said last night that he plans to complete kitchen and dining facilities at his new Laurel lodge by adding a coffee shop and other equipment.

The hotel already has a spacious lobby, featuring a large fireplace which burns six-foot logs; private baths with each of the 18 rooms, an outdoor tennis court, and three and one-half acres of landscaped grounds.

Its three and one-half stories are solidly constructed of cement and the reinforced with steel. The new owner also disclosed that the C. G. Bush and Sons firm will trim bushes on the grounds and make any necessary cuttings from trees on the scenic spot.

Walter Fossa, Mr. Brislin's associate in the Brislin and Fossa resort consultant firm, will handle all publicity, promotions and public relations work for the Laurel lodge.

After opening July 1, the hotel will extend its season to October 15, closing for the winter after the Columbus Day weekend.

250 Spotters To Take Part In Exercise

The 10 U. S. Air Force auxiliary spotting stations in Monroe county will join the 590 others in the State in the nationwide Air Force sponsored exercise planned for today and Sunday, Col. Harry A. Serfass, director of the ground-air observation units in Monroe, announced last night.

Colonel Serfass estimated that approximately 250 persons may participate in the continuous operation which will start at 9 a.m. and continue through tonight until 6 p.m. tomorrow.

The volunteers at the strategically-located stations extending from East Stroudsburg to the mountain area will be among several thousand operating in close contact with the Harrisburg filter center during the 33-hour vigil.

They'll be on watch for U. S. Air Force planes simulating an attack by an enemy trying to elude detection by radar. According to advance releases, the "enemy" planes may also try to break through spotter and radar lines in the Great Lakes area, as well as in Pennsylvania.

The testing of radar defenses means that a five-man team from U. S. Naval Reserve Volunteer Electronics Warfare Co. 4-6 will participate in the night operation in this region.

Petty Officer Russell E. Stout, in charge of the radar section of the local naval reserve unit commanded by Lt. John Reagan, advised The Daily Record that portable Navy equipment will be used on an all-night patrol in this vicinity.

Tentative plans for the radar detection phase of the operation call for establishment of a radio contact at the George M. Kemp American Legion post spotter station on Washington St., East Stroudsburg. Stout said this will provide a connection with existing spotter station telephonic communications.

The balance of the radar equipment will be used on patrols and checks made at high elevations in the vicinity, the petty officers explained. The team in the field will be in constant radio communication with the Kemp post station, he added.

Colonel Serfass disclosed that checks made last night with the 10 spotter station commanders indicated that all personnel has been alerted. Some of the stations have as many as 43 volunteers on their call rolls, he noted.

Crash Occurs Near Station

Cars operated by James Shiffer, 17, of 10 N. Third St., Stroudsburg, and Leeward Eugene Harville, 25, of Astrop, La., collided on Crystal St., East Stroudsburg, near the Lackawanna station early last night.

Officer Edward M. Harloe, who investigated for east borough police, said damages approximated $100.

Shiffer was driving a 1937 heavy model coupe, while Harville was operating a late model sedan owned by James A. Linsey, whose address is Memphis, Tenn.

Linsey, head of a group of magazine salesmen, was a passenger in his vehicle at the time.

No Savings Seen

Akron, O. (AP)—A government slash of 14 cents a pound in raw rubber it imports and sells to industry is unlikely to bring any immediate savings to consumers, spokesmen for the nation's big tire producers indicated here last night.

Creation Of Anti-Communism Crusade Committee Discussed At Meeting With Bennett

Preliminary discussions on creation of a Pocono Mountains Crusade for Freedom committee which will seek ideas at the "grass-roots" level on how to destroy forces of Communism and convey to captive peoples the enlightenment of the free world were held here yesterday.

Meeting at Penn-Stroud hotel at the invitation of Gerald P. O'Neill, a local group studied the project to battle the Klemm conspiracy with Tom Bennett, of Anasimink Lake, formerly with the Fred Waring radio and TV shows.

Mr. Bennett is now with Radio Free Europe, mouthpiece of Crusade for Freedom which is directed by Gen. Lucius D. Clay, former commander of American forces in Germany.

The local development is a project of Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce. The ideas on how to smash the Communist world conspiracy are to be gathered from community meetings throughout the Pocono region.

Recordings of these ideas from farmers, laborers, factory men and women, clerks, etc., will be made for a radio and TV show which will tell the other people of the United States how the Crusade for Freedom operates through Radio Free Europe which has its programs reaching behind the Iron Curtain with facts to enlighten people held prisoner even to their thoughts—by Communism.

Meeting in the preliminary session with Mr. Bennett yesterday were Mr. O'Neill, Dr. Joseph F. Noonan, LeRoy Mikels, John DeSanto, Elton Hall and H. G. Heller.

Cpl. Smith Arrives On Central Front

With the Seventh Infantry Division, U. S. Army, in Korea — Cpl. Forrest C. Smith, husband of Mrs. Marian L. Smith, Reiders, Pa., recently arrived in Korea and joined the 17th Infantry (Buffalo) Regiment on the central front.

Smith was stationed at Fort Dix, N. J., before sailing for Korea after a furlough at home.

To supplement his previous training, Smith was further trained by seasoned veterans of the Korean campaign in the use of the bayonet, hand grenades, light and heavy machine guns and other infantry weapons in preparation for his front line assignment.

His regiment, commanded by Col. William W. (Buffalo Bill) Quinn, is playing an active role in the Korean campaign. They participated in the initial liberation of Seoul and later were the only American regiment to reach the Manchurian border.

Spotters Needed At Mount Pocono

Mount Pocono — Jack Davis, operator-manager of the Mount Pocono airport, and head of the ground-air observation post, last night issued a call for volunteers to assist in the weekend spotter tests.

He said that, according to directions, each volunteer remains on duty for a one-hour shift. Based on that program, Davis estimates that he will need about 30 persons to assist.

Unneeded Judgeships

Philadelphia is having an interesting and keen little debate which might be amusing if it didn't have some prospects of saddling some added expense on the public.

Proposal has been made that four new municipal judgeships be created. But President Judge John A. Boyle says they are unnecessary. City Controller Joseph S. Clark, Democratic candidate for mayor is opposing the enabling measure now in the Legislature and calls on the two principal Republican candidates to do likewise.

Formidable opposition is building up. Clark charges the new judgeships are proposed primarily to enable political judges to overrule Judge Boyle. The jurist is credited with having succeeded in taking court employees out of politics for the first time since 1915.

Others of influence and realistic approach point out that the number of judgeships has increased 140 per cent since 1913, whereas the city population has grown only 33 1/3 per cent. Clark says the courts may be busy, but if all were willing to work like Judge Boyle and some of his associates no congestion would develop.

If Judge Boyle, as head of the court, feels no additional judges are necessary, his word should carry major weight. The Legislature and Governor Fine will want to be on very firm ground if it chooses to disregard his stand.

Old Code Will Do

Comptroller General Lindsay S. Warren thinks we need a code of ethics for public officials. Aroused by five per centers, deep freezers and similar abuses as revealed in mink-coat-land, he asserts we need something to insure a little old-fashioned common honesty, decency and fair dealing. He says:

"We cannot afford another spree of waste, profligacy and utter disregard of the public interest."

He's right about that, but he's wrong about us needing any additional codes. A very good one has been available for some thousands of years since Moses brought it down from the mountain. Plain, old-fashioned observances of the Ten Commandments and some plain, old-fashioned enforcement of the existing laws are quite enough to end the five per centing and the mink coating. It would help, too, if the Administration would say something to underscore the old-fashioned virtues and to frown upon the new-fashioned cynicism which regards a government job as a license to loot.

Not A Good Buy

Our foreign aid program was established to build up the resistance of our Allies against Communism. It was in no sense a purely charitable endeavor since stronger and more determined allies would increase our own chances of surviving the worldwide threat of Communism.

The effort has cost us billions and the end is not yet in sight. Indeed, the Truman administration seems bent on expanding the program to include not only our Allies but all the world's under-developed lands.

We have had two elections recently, in Italy and France, from which to draw conclusions about foreign aid. Both indicate that its value has been vastly overrated.

In the French national election, the Communists polled more popular votes than any other party.

Despite U.S. aid then, Communists have been able to maintain their strength because of traditionally tragic social and economic weaknesses that the Marshall Plan has done nothing to correct. It would seem foolhardy for us to strain our economy seriously with a program that has shown such shabby results—until the benefitting nations show some sign of eliminating economic abuses on which Communism feeds.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Two agents were seated at a table in Mike Romanoff's new Hollywood restaurant watching Clark Gable, Van Johnson, Dore Schary, Mervyn LeRoy, and Spencer Tracy dine lengthily and well. "Look at them," sighed one of the agents. "How'd you like to have ten percent of their salaries?" The other said, "The way things are in the film business today, I'd be satisfied with ten percent of their dinner checks!"

Hollywood

By Gene Handsaker

Hollywood—Now Jane Russell's husband is acting in the movies, too.

Bob Waterfield is, of course, approximately as big a star on the football field as his wife is in pictures. These days he's swimming a river or forward-passing explosive-filled gourds at hostile natives in "Jungle Jim in the Forbidden Land."

"I made up my mind I'd try pictures," Bob told me after a scene in which he floored several of his Johnny Weissmuller's adversaries. "I'm going to do it as well as I can; have fun; enjoy it; if it's not what they want, I won't worry."

Producer Sam Katzman confided, "He doesn't try to act. He's Waterfield. That's what I like about him." Director Lew Landers said he was "a cool, calm, natural quality."

Also a bit of the country-boy quality, you'd say on first impression. The reserved, easy-going manner of a champion. He's 30 years old, 6 feet 1 inch, 190 pounds, with black hair and blue eyes. He grew up in nearby Van Nuys, in whose high school he met Miss Russell. They've been married nine years.

The former UCLA quarterback is under contract for two movies a year. The pact leaves him free every August-to-January for his pigskin chores with the professional Los Angeles Rams. Waterfield says he is going to play football "until I get good and tired of it." He thinks he has three, four, or five years of it left in him.

How does he like movie-acting? "It's fun. It's a switch I'll guarantee you that." Except for summertime extra parts and a two-line role in a football picture, which led to this contract, it's his first experience. He had never been in school plays.

How about two movie careers in the same family?

These Days — By George E. Sokolsky

Sokolsky

The China Lobby
Three factors enter into the propaganda of any country within the United States:

1. The legitimate provision of information and propaganda. Such agencies are maintained in the United States by nearly all countries, probably the largest being the British.

American employees of such organizations are required by law to register as foreign agents. This list has heretofore always been a public document, available to anyone who cared to look at it. For some reason, not readily understood, this has now become a secret list, perhaps to protect Washington lawyers.

2. The various organizations of Americans who voluntarily spend their own time and money being pro or anti this or that. The country is full of them. As regards China, there are a number of associations in favor of Nationalist or Communist China. Some of these have been effective.

3. The clandestine efforts of foreign governments by diverse means to influence public opinion.

Sunday School Lesson

Scripture—II Timothy 2:1-9; I Peter 4:12-18; Revelation 1:7, 9-17.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

ONE OF the saddest phases of our present generation is the revival of the ancient persecution of the Christian Church. Under the Nazis of Germany, and now under Communism, leaders of the church are imprisoned, subjected to we know not what persecutions.

In this lesson we see how the persecutions of the early church spread. Paul was in prison in Rome; Peter was facing his own martyrdom, and John was an exile on the Island of Patmos where he received his Revelation. Paul writing in his prison cell, chained to a soldier, wrote the last letter of his life to the young preacher whom he regarded as his son in Christ, Timothy. Some say the letter was written with Paul's own blood.

"Thou therefore, my son, be strong in the grace that is in Christ Jesus."

"And the things that thou hast heard of me among many witnesses, the same commit thou to faithful men, who shall be able to teach others also."

"Thou therefore endure hardness as a good soldier of Jesus Christ."

The gallantry of people facing death is a never-ending miracle. These men with the prospect of a horrible death in front of them, were sustained by their faith in Christ, who went to His death on the cross after Gethsemane.

All martyrs must have their moments of praying that the cup of suffering may be spared them. Nevertheless, they do not flinch, but go manfully—as soldiers of the Lord—to whatever death they are sentenced.

Paul also wrote Timothy that he (Paul) was suffering, "as an evil doer,"—a criminal—"but the word of God is not bound."

No, indeed, the word of God is not bound. It has spread over all the earth, in spite of persecution and the death of its followers. They died "as good soldiers," but the Word has marched on, carried by its fearless and devoted disciples.

Wrote Paul: "Beloved, think it not strange concerning the fiery trial which is to try you, as though some strange thing happened unto you."

But rejoice, inasmuch as ye are partakers of Christ's sufferings; that, when His glory shall be revealed, ye may be glad also with exceeding joy."

Then he writes them that "let none of you suffer as a murderer, or as a thief, or as an evildoer, or as a busybody in other men's matters."

"Yet if any man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed; but let him glorify God on his behalf."

"Wherefore let them that suffer according to the will of God commit the keeping of the souls to Him in well doing, as unto a faithful Creator."

Peter next addressed the following words to the elders of the church, himself being an elder: "Feed the flock of God which is among you, taking the oversight thereof, not by constraint, but willingly; not for filthy lucre, but of a ready mind;

"Neither as being lords over God's heritage, but being examples to the flock."

"And when the Chief Shepherd shall appear, ye shall receive a crown of glory that fadeth not away."

There Peter struck at one of man's greatest weaknesses. It is always the trial of a great man that no matter how many honors come to him, he remain humble. Even preachers who have unusual success in their work, may be tempted to forget that our Lord won greatness as a teacher, preacher and healer, but He always remained the simple, sincere and approachable Man to tion. These are naturally not always traceable. For instance, Nationalist China had, during the war years, set up agencies in Washington under the general management of T. B. Soong, David Corcoran (brother of Tommy) and Ludwik Rajchman to operate various enterprises in connection with loans, supplies, etc. Whether such an agency also engaged in influencing views, I do not know. The natural supposition must be that every country seeks to win friends and does the best it can. And the winning of friendship is a gentle art with many techniques.

Soviet Russia employed Amtorg in numerous ways, from trade and commerce to espionage. To what extent other governments employ similar agencies for these purposes has never been established in a quotable manner.

The phrase, "The China Lobby," has thus far not been defined as belonging to the categories described above. If it is found that the agency of the Chinese government employed a publicity firm such as the Allied Syndicates, Inc., or some other, this is legitimate and there can be no criticism either of the employer or the employee. The allied syndicates have been close to the Democratic party, having had John Sullivan, former Secretary of the Navy, and Clark Clifford, former counsel to the President, associated with it. It has also been suggested that a member of the president's office had recommended this firm.

There can be no reasonable objection to the employment of this firm for straight publicity work, if that is what they do. I have no information to the contrary.

The cry against "The China Lobby" originated in the Russell committee among those Senators who are violently anti-MacArthur. Their object is to detract attention from the failings of the administration to the protagonists of Chiang Kai-shek. Their butt is not the hired public relations counsel nor even the Chinese themselves; it is to bring odium to American citizens who have spent their own time and money to oppose the Communist conquest of China. They would like to pillory Alfred Kohlberg, a citizen who is devoted to anti-Communism.

The reason that these politicians hate Kohlberg is that they believe that he is responsible for Senator Joe McCarthy—which would be something for anyone to take on. Joe McCarthy and Kohlberg are friends and serve in the same cause. So are a great many other Americans. It will do no harm to bring it all into the open, not by smearing nor by sly, undefined accusations, but by setting forth the virtue of these Americans who inhibited the State department policy of aiding Communist China.

As a matter of fact, it is encouraging to see Americans put up the fight they have against Communist China. Perhaps had there been no Kohlbergs, Soviet Russia would, by now, be in Burma, Siam and Iran.

I know this man and have often wondered at his fanatical insistence in a tough fight. A merchant, he has devoted time, money, and experience to the fight. He got into it by accident; that it, he believed that the Institute of Pacific Relations of which he had been a member and to which he had contributed, had misrepresented itself to him. He got sore.

The more he got into that fight the more he recognized that the battle had to be broadened until it included an attack on all Communist activity, particularly right here in the United States.

He has proved to be an effective fighter and a competent leader in a good cause. Investigators of Kohlberg will have a tough time discovering any anti-American attitudes.

I think I know now why I wanted to use this story for my column.

It reminds me of a lot of us human folk.

We know there are many things wrong with the people we know. We also know that a lot of people think that there are many things wrong with us.

But when we sit down to analyze the faults of other people—and our own—we get all mixed up and don't know where to start or what is really wrong with them or with us.

So, after all, before we go around complaining about others and being dissatisfied with ourselves, we ought to do what His Honour told Mr. Raddle to do:

"And it is up to you to decide which one it is."

Then the judges went into a huddle.

"Which one of these dogs bit you?" the chief magistrate asked Raddle.

Raddle looked and looked, first at one then at each of the other five.

But he got no help from the colliers. They just sat there and wagged their tails. They didn't say a word. One of the onlookers could have sworn that they were laughing at Raddle and at the judges.

Finally he confessed that he couldn't tell for the life of him which of the six had nipped him.

The magistrates went into another huddle.

Then came the verdict. Chief Magistrate, the Honourable W. T. Hogg, pronounced it.

"Mr. Roberts," he said sternly. "The court orders you to keep the dog that bit Mr. Raddle under control hereafter."

"And it is up to you to decide which one it is."

"Where does this end? Now our baby sitter has a baby sitter to sit with HER!"

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

One of America's most famous movie stars, honeymooning with Husband No. 4 (reading from "left to left"), will close out at auction all personal possessions acquired under previous marriages. Her sun-halters and false teeth will be included, the announcement says, together with wedding rings and a watch from one husband, bearing an engraving of hearts entwined as a symbol of deathless devotion. We can hear it now.

Auctioneer—Your attention, please! Every item in this collection will go to the highest bidder, without reservations. This is an all-out dispersal sale of memories of ex-husbands, perhaps the best memento auction in history. Number one is this beautiful wedding ring. It is from one of the lady's earlier husbands.

Voice—Is it an antique? Auctioneer—Come, you know very well these girls don't keep husbands that long. It goes away back in her collection, however, and is one of the choicest items in the lot. To the lucky bidder we will throw in a nightgown, two pairs of shoes and a poem on orange blossoms. (After excited bidding). Sold! And now we come to a lovely silken sun-halter. This will make an attractive asset in any home. If you are collecting sun-halters, here is a rare opportunity.

Voice—Is it authentic? Auctioneer—A letter attesting to it as an original goes to the bidder. The halter is also no-tar-zed. If you take home a sun-halter like this you can't make a mistake.

A Male Bidder—That's what you think.

Auctioneer (later)—That brings us to a watch, a gift from one of the lady's husbands. Note the hearts entwined and the words "Yours Always." There has rarely been an expression of greater optimism. Sold to that gentleman over there for the trophy room of the Optimists Clubs of America. And now we come to the falsies, representing one of the most famed collections in the world.

Voice—Are they genuine? Auctioneer—Would anybody be so false as to make a false statement about a falsie? Certainly not. Do I hear one thousand dollars?

Voice—Isn't that pretty high?

Auctioneer—Remember these are not orthodox run-of-the-mill falsies. They are the falsies of distinction, perhaps the best known falsies on this hemisphere. I have a bid of $2,000.

Voice—Twenty-five hundred!

Auctioneer—We don't take $500 bids. Whose falsies do you think you are buying? These falsies are priceless to any collection of real Americana. They were factors in the great national style changes. They were influences in the trend away from traditions. Sociologists maintain they are important as marking the first definite break by American womanhood with truth and veracity. Sold to that gentleman who says his wife wants them for lampshades! And now another wedding ring. Stamped on the inside are the words "Forever and anon."

Voice—Are you kidding?

Auctioneer—No, but somebody was. This brings us to some of the loveliest nighties ever thrown overboard to the highest bidder. Sold to that gentleman for fifteen hundred dollars. He is buying for the Government to be used for publicity in a coming war bonds drive. And now, ladies and gentlemen, we place under the hammer two of the lady's former husbands...Oh! Sorry! My error...It was a mistake in the catalogue!

Many Voices—See, I told you she would hold out something!!!

Mrs. George Presents Flags To Two Camps

Saylorsburg—Alice George, 84, of Saylorsburg, presented Camp #208, P. O. of A., and Camp #327, P. O. S. A., Saylorsburg, with an American flag of nylon.

Mrs. George although she never belonged to the lodge, wanted to do her bit. She presented the flag in honor of her sister, Mrs. John Eckle, with whom she makes her home, and her many relatives who belong to the lodges.

Despite her years, she still has an interest in public affairs, and attends whenever possible. The program was given Thursday night after the P. O. of A. lodge meeting at the firehall.

Mrs. Anna M. Serfas was toastmaster, and Rev. Adan Bohner offered prayer. Mrs. Serfas presented a "Tribute to the Flag," and told the wishes of her aunt, Mrs. George, Mrs. P. W. Meixell accepted the flag in behalf of Camp P. O. of A., and Rev. Adan Bohner, in behalf of P. O. S. of A. lodge.

Mrs. George in response told how she was glad that she was an American, and lived in America.

Mr. Bohner spoke on the American flag, and what it stands for. Readings were given by Mrs. Norman Greenamoyer, Mrs. Clayton Snyder, Mrs. George Metzgar, Miss Joan Blake.

Mrs. Grant Knowles sang, "God Bless America" and Mrs. Knowles and Mrs. Clarence Budge sang a duet, "America and Our Flag," accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Frank Schick.

Albert Altemus, and Lewis Faustick also spoke and the meeting closed with singing "God Be With You 'till We Meet Again." Refreshments were served.

Auxiliary Plans Picnic For Anniversary

The auxiliary of the Good Fellowship club of Patterson-Kelley will celebrate the first anniversary of its organization at the meeting to be held Sunday, June 24, at 6 p.m. at the home of Mrs. George Altman.

There will be an outdoor picnic, followed by a parcel pot party, a brief business meeting and entertainment.

Each member is asked to bring a gift for sale and their own table service.

Many Attend Bible School Graduation

Graduation exercises for the Stroudsburg Daily Vacation Bible School last night filled the auditorium of the Stroudsburg Presbyterian church with families and friends of the 128 children who were enrolled in the two-week sessions.

Sponsored by the Presbyterian, Methodist and Reformed churches of Stroudsburg, the school had as its principal, Mrs. Harold Stiff, Mrs. Merlin Rutt, secretary, reported that there was an average daily attendance of 108 throughout the sessions.

Rev. Walter Johnston gave the invocation which was followed by student pledges to the American flag, the Christian flag, and the Bible.

Rev. Ernest Campbell spoke briefly and introduced Mrs. Stiff, who in turn presented her staff.

The Beginner's department in golden crowns had "Children of the Bible" as the theme of their program; while the Primary department, wearing sailors collars told of "Bible Boats." The Junior department's theme was "Christians Walk and Talk"; while the Intermediate department presented the parables by means of puppets they had made.

The faculty of the school included Mrs. John Hiller, superintendent; of beginners, assisted by Mrs. Hugh Altomose, Mrs. Al Davis, Mrs. Edgar Hall, Mrs. Kenneth Stevens, Mrs. William Altomose Jr., Mrs. Claude Beidler and Miss Helen Shick.

In the primary department, Mrs. Howard Ailes was assisted by Mrs. Roger Acker, and Mrs. Peter Wyckoff. Mrs. Theodore Metzgar was superintendent of juniors assisted by Mrs. Nelson Frantz, Mrs. Melvin Fetterhoff, Mrs. Robert Wilson and Mrs. Oren Stiff. Mrs. Edward Hess and Mrs. Charles Peters directed the intermediates.

Betsy Smith and Harriett Garaventi assisted with the recreational program.

Club Has Luncheon

Mrs. Dorothy Lim entertained the members of her pinocle club at a luncheon this week at the Green Lantern Tea room. Afterwards they played cards in one of the cabins which has been arranged for that purpose.

Lt. and Mrs. James LaGrone

Metzgars At Wedding Of Nephew

Dr. and Mrs. T. I. Metzgar have returned from attending the wedding of Mrs. Metzgar's nephew, James LaGrone, to Miss Ila Sample, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sample, of Buhl, Idaho.

Mr. LaGrone has many friends here where he has spent many summers. He is the son of Mrs. Amanda R. LaGrone, of Highland Park, Mich.

The wedding was preceded by a series of pre-nuptial parties, including a buffet supper for the bride and groom, and the bride's attendants in pastel formal gowns, and identical twins as candle-lighters.

There was a reception for 200 guests in the church reception hall following the ceremony, with Mrs. Metzgar presiding at the punch bowl.

The bride is a graduate of Castleford high school, and Mrs. Metzgar went out early to attend her graduation from the University of Idaho with high honors. She was a member of Kappa Alpha Theta and Phi Delta Kappa.

The bridegroom was also graduated from the University of Idaho, where he was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Blue Key honorary society.

He is a second lieutenant in the US Marine Corps, and will be stationed at Quantico, Va. Lt. and Mrs. LaGrone are now making their home in Frederickburg, Va.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

After sweltering through a sticky day when everybody seemed a little irritable, it was too bad to have the cooling rain come just when your favorite team in the Little League was ahead 3 to 2.

And such a rain. Couldn't even open the windows in the car filled with wet and steaming little ball players, though finally it became a choice between smothering or drowning, practically, as they insisted we wait out the full 15-minute leeway.

Stayed pretty hot in the Presbyterian church, too, for the Bible school graduation, but I doubt if the parents noticed in their absorption in how well their child was doing on the program.

Couldn't help noticing the crops of pretty blonde pre-school youngsters coming along, who also managed to keep their parents' minds off the heat.

Don't know whether they're more wearing at that quicksilver stage or at the "anything-for-a-laugh" stage where they seek the dog on a barking spree right in the middle of a broadcast from home.

Well, maybe it will seem funny after a good night's sleep.

Public Health Nurse Board Elects DePuy, Mrs. Dunning

The Monroe County Organization of Public Health Nursing added to the official board a new secretary, Mrs. Roger Dunning, and a new treasurer, C. Edward DePuy, at a meeting held in the board room at the General Hospital.

Paul Dellaria, president of the board, presided at the meeting when Miss Virginia Culver, executive director of the service, suggested several ways of making the service known throughout the county. Miss Culver and Mrs. Warren Loney are available for nursing visits to all homes in the county weekdays from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and Saturdays from 8 a.m. to 12 noon. The new headquarters are at the General Hospital.

There was also a discussion of the Public Health Bill now before the state legislature, which the board endorsed. Mr. Dellaria read an editorial from the Daily Record concerning the bill, and Mrs. LeRoy Koehler also read editorial comment. The individual members of the board will be asked to write to Representative Shotwell and State Senator Crowe asking their support of the bill.

Mrs. Koehler gave the report of the nursing committee.

Advancement Night For Cub Pack 24

Cub Pack 24 held Advancement night last night at the East Stroudsburg Methodist church when the badges they had earned through their year's activities were presented.

The Cub story of Akela was presented with Cubmaster Victor Hoehne as the famed Indian Chief, with the cubs, each in Indian headdress he had made, taking part in the candle light ceremonial.

Boys who received their Bob Cat pins included Evan C. Reese, Robert Pabst, Gary Kester, John Hindman, Justin Howe, Paul Fuchs, and Peter Treible, and the pins were pinned on by the parents and den mothers.

Michael Heller received his wolf badge with 1 gold and 2 silver arrow points presented by his mother, Mrs. John Heller; Laird Patterson's wolf badge with 2 silver arrows was presented by his father, Frank L. Patterson; James Parke received a bear badge with gold and silver arrow from his father; and Joel Huffman, his wolf badge, from his mother, Mrs. Harvey Huffman.

Arthur and Paul Plattenburg won both gold and silver arrow points, presented by their mother, Mrs. Clarence Plattenburg; and Lawrence Stettler had a gold arrow and three silver arrow points on his Bear achievements, while Peter Bard received gold and silver arrow points.

It was announced that on Cub Day at Camp Weygadt, July 14, Pack 24 would present a side show display for the County Fair theme of the day. The September meeting will be a covered dish supper to open the fall program.

Mrs. Claude Heller's den served refreshments to the cubs and the parents present with Mrs. Evan Reese, Mrs. Ross Howe and Mrs. Hindman assisting. Missing from the meeting were Mrs. Clifford Lambert's Den whose members were playing in the Little League baseball game.

Scholastic Honors For Rima Maxwell

Six years of school work compressed into three, and a scholarship to Mount Holyoke which she will enter this fall shortly after her 16th birthday is the record of Miss Rima Maxwell, now with her mother, Mrs. Toni H. Maxwell at their summer cottage at Minisink Hills.

Rima not only compressed her studies, but did so in two countries. She attended laboratory school at East Stroudsburg State Teachers college while her mother was a student there. After completing sixth grade, she entered a private school in England, near her mother's former home. Starting at this level, she completed the full college preparation in three years. Her headmaster accredited her remarkable record not only to her natural ability but also to the excellent foundation of her elementary education.

Returning to the United States last summer, and still too young for college, she spent this past school year in Candor, N. Y., where her mother is a teacher. She took a post graduate course in science, shorthand, typing and Spanish, and continued her work in French in nearby Ithaca.

She received her scholarship to Mount Holyoke in recognition of her remarkable scholastic record and the ratings she achieved in the New York state regents examinations taken this past year. All of her ratings were outstanding, including a 95 per cent she achieved in a French examination.

PRACTICAL LESSONS in the democratic way of treating prisoners of war is learned in clean and well-fed comfort by these North Koreans and Chinese Communists. At a United Nations internment camp, one prisoner (top) performs on the horizontal bars for his fellows. Personal cleanliness is enjoyed (bottom) where the captured Reds wash their clothes with freely provided soap and water.

House Passes Tax Measure

Big as the bill is, it represents less than half the $16,500,000,000 in additional taxes President Truman called for last winter. Later, as collections from present rates came in at an unexpectedly large volume, he lowered his sights to a $10,000,000,000 boost.

The government's total collections in the next fiscal year are expected to reach $56,300,000,000.

Over a year's operation, individual income taxpayers would pay 12 1/2 per cent or one-eighth more than they do at present. But since the bill sets the effective date of the increase on next Sept. 1, thus applying to only one-third of 1951 income, the increase in tax liability this year would be only 4 per cent.

As an example, a man who paid $300 income tax on his 1950 income and whose income remains unchanged for the two succeeding years would pay $332 for 1951 and $300 for 1952. He would simply figure his tax under the present rates then add the percentage increase which applies.

The corporate tax rate applying to the first $25,000 of income would rise from 25 to 30 per cent. On income above $25,000, the combined normal and surtax rate would go up from 47 to 52 per cent. The effective maximum rate of the excess profits tax, for firms subject to that levy, would rise from 77 to 82 per cent.

A bigger percentage of some companies' earnings would be subject to the excess profits levy. The excess profits credit drops to include only 75 per cent of 1946-49 earnings, rather than 85 per cent, and the tax applies to all above that credit. The government would be allowed to take up to 70 per cent, rather than 62 per cent, of a company's earnings in normal taxes, surtaxes and excess profits taxes. The corporate tax increases would be retroactive to Jan. 1, 1951.

Consumers would be jolted by higher excise taxes.

The cigarette tax would rise from seven cents a package to eight cents; the rate on automobiles from seven per cent of the manufacturer's price to 10 per cent; whisky and other hard liquor, from $9 a 100-proof gallon to $10-50; beer, from $8 to $9 a barrel; gasoline from 1 1/2 to two cents a gallon. And there were others. These increases cannot take effect until the bill becomes law.

The tax on telegrams would be reduced from 25 per cent to 20 per cent. Baby oils, powder and lotions would be exempted from the toiletries tax. The tax on electrical energy would be repealed.

In the hunt for new revenue, the bill calls for a 10 per cent tax on the take of bookmakers, "numbers" operators and lottery operators. Each such professional gambler would have to pay a $50 a year occupational tax, and so would each of his agents or runners. Heavy penalties are provided for violators.

The effective maximum rate of the capital gains tax goes up from 25 to 28 1/2 per cent, in line with the one-eighth boost in income taxes. But homeowners would not have to pay the tax on any profit they made on the sale of their personal residences, provided they reinvested the profit in another home within a year.

"Single" taxpayers with family responsibilities, such as widows with dependent children, would be extended one-half of the income tax benefits available to married couples through income-splitting.

The bill makes an effort to plug a major revenue leak by authorizing source withholding of 20 per cent of all dividend and royalty payments, and some interest payments. The money withheld would be applied against the payee's income tax. Income from corporate stocks and bonds is the main thing affected. The withholding does not apply to bank interest or the interest on U. S. savings bonds.

Eight County Farms Enter PMA Contest

Eight farms in the Monroe county area have already entered the 1951 "green pastures" contest sponsored by the Monroe County Production and Marketing Administration, the PMA announced here yesterday.

This enrollment was described by the county administration as an "average enrollment" for counties throughout the State, but hope was expressed for a late surge of participants which will put the Monroe competition ahead of other counties both in number of participating farms and volume of acreage in competition.

To this end, the local PMA office yesterday mailed 150 letters explaining the contest to farmers in all parts of the county.

Deadline for registration will be July 1 and the first phase in a series of periodic judgments will take place shortly after that date.

Orien Reish, Stroudsburg RD 2 farmer, was the winner of the 1950 "green pastures" contest here, the committee recalled yesterday. Others who placed in last year's contest were Martin Serfass, Stroudsburg RD 2, second; Robert T. Blum, Stroudsburg RD 3, third, and Arlington W. Martin, Effort, fourth.

Shawnee

Mrs. John Sorenson, of Jamaica Estates, Long Island, N. Y., formerly of Shawnee, and her three daughters, Giovanna, Judy and Joy arrived on Sunday to spend the week with Mr. and Mrs. Minard Flor at Eagle Rock cottage. Fred Flor graduated from Columbia University last week with a degree of master of science and is leaving for Columbus, Ohio, where he will be an electrical engineer with the Columbus Electric Co.

David Leventritt and his daughter Ann, have been spending two weeks at Binnickill lodge. Mr. and Mrs. J. Stark Michaels have their daughter, Mrs. Robert Seitz, of Cold Springs, N. Y., and her two little children, Linda and Laurie, visiting them for a week and also their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Mills, who have returned home from Pittsburgh. Their other daughter Marilyn, returned from Penn State College last week and will commence a special training course with the Sears Roebuck Co. in Allentown in July.

Col. and Mrs. Albert Daykin, of Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, left on Wednesday after spending a week visiting Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Cramer.

Mrs. Harry Olitz left by plane last week for a month's visit at her home in Red Rock, Neb. Mrs. Oliver Bowers, of Kenton, Ohio, with her twin sons, Oliver and Furman, and another son, Edmund Norman Rondo, are spending two weeks visiting her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Dudley King.

Water Gap Borough Buys Weed Killer

Delaware Water Gap — This is the time of year when poison ivy can most effectively be destroyed by the use of weed killer. The borough council of Delaware Water Gap has purchased another supply of ammate to be used for this purpose. They request that property owners cooperate in an attempt to rid the borough of this very obnoxious weed.

Residents may purchase a supply of ammate from the borough and the council will furnish the equipment to be used to spray the ivy.

While much of the region was sprayed last year and a quantity of the weed killed, it takes at least two years to completely destroy them in most places. By spraying at this time much of the spreading of the weeds can be stopped.

Citizens are requested to get in touch with Fred Decker or any one of the members of council to secure the supplies.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Neidorf and son, Danny, have returned to their home from Chicago, where they attended the graduation exercises of the University of Chicago at which time Robert Neidorf was graduated.

Tova and Billy Hammerman are spending a few weeks in Cleveland, Ohio, visiting their grandparents.

A committee from the fire company spent a day recently in New York City purchasing supplies for the annual carnival to be held this summer. While in New York, they attended a ball game.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hauser, Mrs. Stella Swoboda and Mrs. Stella Brodhead enjoyed a picnic on Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Noble, in Sterling, Pa.

Learn Buys 30-Acre Tract In Township

Dale H. Learn, East Stroudsburg realtor, has purchased a 30-acre tract in Price township, according to a deed placed on file here yesterday at the office of Register and Recorder Floyd Butz.

Dorothy A. and Michael Repchak, of East Stroudsburg conveyed title to the tract to Dale H. and Pauline G. Learn and, according to the deed description, the land comprises part of the premises which the late Henry Lesoine by his last will and testament drawn Aug. 30, 1910, bequeathed to his six sons.

Harry Marvin, East Stroudsburg, executor of the last will and testament of the late Stewart H. Marvin, took title yesterday to an East Stroudsburg property conveyed to him individually by the estate. The premises were identified as the same which Richard L. Brush and wife transferred to the late Stewart H. Marvin and wife on April 1, 1929.

H. Murray Abelloff also sold a section comprising approximately one and eight tenths acres on the Snyder'sville-Sciota stretch of Route 209 to Fred H. and Charlotte Balke, of Hamilton township.

Supervisors Oppose Truck Weight Bill

Harrisburg (AP) — The Pennsylvania State Association of Township Supervisors yesterday opposed a bill before the Legislature to increase truck weight limits.

"Passage of the bill would be extremely harmful to the 10,000 bridges and 41,000 miles of roads in the State's townships," said H. A. Thompson, secretary for the association.

Township roads and bridges were built to handle passenger cars and light farm and delivery trucks, Thomson said, adding:

"They were never designed to handle even the present 45,000 pound weights, let alone the proposed increase to 60,000 pounds."

The trucking bill, now up for Senate debate, would increase the weights for commonly used trucks but would retain the 60,000 pound overall limit on other trucks.

In addition, it would crack down on violators of truck weight laws by making penalties more severe.

Thomson charged that the "greatest damage occurred when some long-haul trucker, often from out of State, used side roads to avoid being weighed by State police."

"Hardly a week goes by," he said, "but we read of some bridge collapsing under the over-the-limit weight of a highway boxcar."

Life of Riley

Sports Editor

Ray Steele's second appearance in the mound this season should draw large crowds to Gordon Giffels field tomorrow, when Pocono A.C. plays host to Johnsonville. A couple of weeks ago this game would have meant very little if anything to local fans, but it is an entirely different story at the present time. Steele hurled a one-hit contest last Sunday, in his first start for Pocono A.C., and since the lanky right hander has drawn the interest of major league scouts, he in turn has drawn the intense interest of local followers of the great sport of baseball.

The presence of Johnsonville means a little more at this date also, as the club won its only game of the season on Wednesday, by a 3-2 margin over Portland. Tomorrow's visiting aggregation lost a 7-5 verdict to Stockertown on Thursday, but the team has proven that it is vastly improved over the one that opened the present campaign. Although Pocono A.C. clowned through the first few innings of the initial meeting of the two foes, the charges of Manager John Schoonover had to finish strong to gain a 6-5 victory over Johnsonville.

Johnsonville plays all its games on the road at the present time, due to the fact that it hasn't a suitable home diamond to play on at this juncture of the season. Tom Foley, East Stroudsburg resident, is also drawing more than a passing interest from major league scouts, even before he won his only two starts for Roseto, both well pitched contests. Bob Muhr, southpaw hurler for Roseto, has turned down at least one major league scout's offer and at least the same number of requests to join a minor league organization this year. Muhr wants to stay at home with his butcher business in Bethlehem.

Jack Mattes, infielder with Berwick, of the North Atlantic League, last year, is currently working out with Sunbury, of the class "B" Inter-State League. Mattes was one of the best players on the Berwick roster during the 1950 campaign. Stan Dudas, former member of the Shawnee Inn pro staff, thrilled golfing enthusiasts by shooting a 70 at Elkview Country club, while home on a weekend pass last week. Stan's driving ability reportedly was the talk of the area. Dudas, currently stationed at Fort Meade, Md., is a native of Simpson.

Jimmy Thompson, veteran long-hitting pro, has spent several days at Shawnee Inn this week and gave a couple exhibitions of real power, although the former money winning great was hitting them as far and as straight as if each ball in turn was shot out of a cannon. Charley Baum, head man of Baum's Sporting Goods, Sunbury, made a big impression at the Pocono Mountain league meeting last Monday, when he spoke to the group in Pennsylvania Dutch. One of the most interested parties attending the lectures of Everett Case, North Carolina State coach, was Frank "Hank" Pozda, former cage star from East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, who graduated last month.

Forest Haney has turned in a wonderful job since being named umpire-in-chief of the Stroudsburg Little League. Umpires were far and few between before Haney has been named to the job, but now it's an entirely different story, as two umpires are on hand for every contest and each is very willing to work his hardest. The midge basketball demonstration given by Jay Archer and ten of his players made a big hit with the coaches at the eighth annual Eastern Pennsylvania Scholastic Coaches clinic at ESSC on Thursday.

Paul McGovern, basketball star at ESSC during the past three of four seasons, continues to have the inside track for the Carbonate Catholic Youth Center director's job, as reported in this column some time ago. Barney Lutz, pilot of the 1949 Carbondale entry in the North Atlantic league, is finding it virtually impossible to lift his Lima, O. team out of the cellar in the class "D" Ohio-Indiana league. Ralph Guyton, hard hitting left fielder for Hazleton, North Atlantic league, last year, has switched from that field to right for the Lancaster Red Roses, in the class "B" Inter-State League.

Eddie Christoff, former Nazareth, North Atlantic league, catcher and outfielder, is filling similar positions with Pocatiello, of the class "C" Pioneer league. According to the latest averages, Christoff, a native of Northampton, is hitting at a .317 clip, with nine home runs, one triple and seven doubles. Pocatiello is a member of the St. Louis Cardinals' farm system.

ESSC next meet Panzer in football next season, due to the fact that the East Orange, N.J. school is dropping the sport for at least one year. Herman Hickman, Yale's head football coach, and an annual figure at the Eastern Pennsylvania Scholastic Coaches Association clinic a couple of years back, is leaving for Europe this week, where he will help out on several clinics for the GIs.

Annual Clinic Ends Week Of Activity

Everett Case, highly regarded head basketball coach at North Carolina State, brought the eighth annual Eastern Pennsylvania Scholastic Coaches Association clinic to a close at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College yesterday, with three and one-half hours of lecturing on basketball.

Case's afternoon of work included films and lectures, both conducted in the ESSC auditorium. Ben Carnevale, head cage mentor at Navy, also assisted Case in the final clinic session.

The films presented included last year's North Carolina State-Duke basketball game, the National Invitation Tournament final between Dayton and Brigham Young and the pro playoff between the New York Knickerbockers and Rochester Royals. The pro all-star game and the college all-stars against the Harlem Globe Trotters were also featured.

Charley "Rip" Engle, head football coach at Penn State, was in charge of the morning session and spoke mainly about the winged-T formation. Sever Torrett, an assistant grid mentor at Penn State, assisted Engle with his portion of the clinic yesterday.

The 85 men enrolled at this year's clinic, the seventh to be held at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, departed for home following Case's final remarks.

Reds Decision Phillies, 3-2

Cincinnati (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds clustered all of their runs in the first inning last night to whip Philadelphia 3-2 and take over the Phils' fourth-place berth. Andy Seminick cracked his sixth homer over the leftfield fence for Philadelphia with none on in the third.

The Reds hung on for dear life after the first as the Phils chipped away the lead to one run. Seminick's homer narrowed the gap and a triple by Eddie Waitkus followed by Richie Ashburn's single produced the Quakers' second marker and chased Harry Perkowski in the eighth.

Frank Smith came on in the eighth and retired the next five men in order, striking out three. Starter Jocko Thompson, who was smeared with his fifth defeat, settled down wonderfully after the rough first inning and allowed only two harmless hits until he was yanked for a pinch-hitter in the eighth. The Reds' five-hit total was one less than the Phils managed off Perkowski. Jim Konstant set down the side for the Phils in the eighth.

Bob Usher started the Reds off in the first with a single. He stole second and scored on Johnny Wyrostek's hit. Thompson hit Klus-zewski with a pitched ball next. "Red" Stalcup's ground out advanced both runners and they scored on Grady Hatton's single to center.

O'Sullivan Surprises In Women's Western Open

Philadelphia (AP) — Pat O'Sullivan, a happy Irish cypsel from Orange, Conn., upset medalist Louise Suggs yesterday and went into the finals of the Women's Western Open golf championship against heavily-favored Patty Berg.

The 23-year-old New England amateur, daughter of a Connecticut Supreme Court Justice, started a gallery of 1,200 by eliminating Miss Suggs, three-time champion from Carrollton, Ga., four and two.

Miss Berg, meanwhile, conquered an attack of putting jitters to oust Marjorie Lindsay, 26-year-old Illinois amateur champion from Decatur, Ill., five and

Fifty Entries To See Action At Delaware Valley Speedway

Fifty cars are scheduled to strut their exhaust at the Delaware Valley Speedway tomorrow, with the first qualifying race listed for 2 p.m. The local track, located near the Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg Airport, has been hampered by frowns from the weatherman on at least two Sunday events, but has hopes of receiving the green light for tomorrow's actions.

Added seats have been constructed during the present week to accommodate the crowds that are expected to pour into the local oval.

Good Condition — The track is in good condition and if it doesn't rain tomorrow, those attending the show should see one of the best stock car programs in this part of the state.

Included in the large field will be such well known local drivers as Gene Communal, Stroudsburg, and Zane Tallada, Tannersville.

Adults will be admitted for $1.25, while children must pay 40 cents to pass through the gate.

The newly constructed track is scheduled for action every Sunday and holiday for the remainder of the summer.

Syracuse Tennis Star Advances

Syracuse, N. Y. (AP) — Harold McGrath, Syracuse University sophomore, upset the Navy's Hank Goelzer yesterday to enter the final round of the twenty-ninth Eastern Intercollegiate Tennis Tournament.

McGrath, Syracuse City champion, beat the Navy ensign, 6-1, 9-7, 6-1. Goelzer was one of the four seeded players.

Other Match — In the women's division of the tourney the two seeded players, Joy Valderama of Temple University, and Barbara Friedberg of Miami University stroked their way into the finals.

Miss Valderama, former Hawaiian junior champion, beat Ray McLean of Wesley, 6-0, 3-6, 6-0. Miss Friedberg, from Baltimore, trimmed Linda Rinehart of Wisconsin College, 6-2, 6-2.

Lights Delay Game

Pittsburgh (AP) — The flood lights at Forbes Field failed last night shortly before the Pittsburgh Pirates-Brooklyn Dodgers game was scheduled to get under way.

Officials of both clubs and umpires agreed to delay the game until the lights could be repaired.

Bosox Inflict First Loss On Gumpert

Boston (AP) — Vern Stephens' two-run homer snapped previously unbeaten Randy Gumpert's seven game pitching streak and gave the Boston Red Sox a 6-5 victory over the top place Chicago White Sox last night in the opener of a four game series. The loss cut the Chicago lead over the New York Yankees to two and a half games.

Stephens' circuit, blow, his tenth of the season, came after Ted Williams had scored Billy Goodman with a two bagger to left field in the fourth inning. Gumpert, who had been knocked out of the box without penalty by the St. Louis Browns in April, was replaced by Luis Aloma in the fifth inning.

Help — Lefty Mel Parnell, who gave the Red Sox their previous win in seven previous starts against the Chicago, weakened in the eighth but was given effective relief assistance by Ellis Kinder.

The White Sox banged Parnell for three runs in the third on singles by Bob Dillinger, Nelly Fox and Orestes Mino's third homer of the campaign. Before Kinder took over, Don Lenhardt and Jim Busby drove in Mino and Eddie Robinson to cut the Red Sox lead to one run.

Busby's blow was a double and Kinder found him on second and Robinson on third with Chico Carrasquel up and two out. Carrasquel lashed a terrific drive that sent Williams back to the left field wall for a spectacular game saving catch.

Yankees Win Over Indians

New York (AP) — Allie Reynolds pitched his second straight shut-out for the New York Yankees last night, 6-0, holding the Cleveland Indians to six hits. Bob Feller suffered his second loss of the season.

As the league-leading Chicago White Sox lost to Boston, the Yanks moved to within two and one-half games of first place.

Big Night — Jerry Coleman drove home half the Yanks runs and Yogi Berra hit his eleventh homer in the attack that snapped Feller's six-game win streak, his only previous loss came at Boston, May 19.

Reynolds, a shutout winner over Detroit Sunday, was in command all the way enroute to his seventh victory. All six Indian hits were singles. It was the tenth shutout by the Yankee staff and Reynolds' third.

The Yanks ripped into Feller for eight of their ten hits with Gene Woodling, Bobby Brown and Coleman doing most of the damage.

It was Cleveland's ninth loss in a row at Yankee Stadium over a two-year span since Bobby Lemon beat the Yanks at New York last July 14.

Zernial Leads A's To Victory

Philadelphia (AP) — Gus Zernial's booming bat featured the Philadelphia A's 5-2 victory over St. Louis last night as the burly outfielder pounded two home runs, his twelfth and thirteenth of the season, and a single to chase home three of the winner's markers.

Both of Zernial's round trippers were made on first pitches to him by righthander Al Widmar. Each came with the bags empty. Philadelphia took a 1-0 lead in the first inning as Eddie Joost walked, went to third on Elmer Valo's double and tallied on an infield out.

Tie Score — St. Louis got the equalizer in the third on Johnny Bero's single, a sacrifice by Al Widmar, an infield out and a fielding error by Lou Klein.

The Browns took a 2-1 edge in the fourth on Matt Batts' single, Ken Wood's double and a hit by Hank Arft. Zernial created a deadlock by leading off Philadelphia's fourth with his first home run.

A single by Joost, Widmar's miscue, Zernial's safety and infield bingle by Ferris Fain accounted for two runs in the Athletics' fifth.

Zernial then blasted his second homer in Philadelphia's eighth. Fain also had three hits for Philadelphia, boosting his average to .363.

Qualifying Sessions For Glen Brook Tournament Open Today

Qualifying sessions for the Glen Brook Country Club championship tournament will begin today and will last for the next two weeks. It was announced last night by Mike Rubish, club professional. Rubish stated that he was holding the club championship much earlier than usual this year, in an effort to give the winner prestige during the same season that he reigns as champion.

Those wishing to qualify for the championship may do so at any time during the next two weeks. The first round of the club championship is listed for Friday, July 6. There will be four flights of golfers this year, with 16 golfers in each flight.

Trophies — The club champion and each flight winner will receive a trophy. Augie Lockwitch is the defending champion at Glen Brook Country Club.

Rubish also announced that he will hold the first Glen Brook Country Club Handicap tournament on the Fourth of July, a week from Wednesday.

The very popular Glen Brook pro also plans a Caddy Tournament later in the season, with club members caddying for the caddies during the final round. There will also be a caddy banquet this year.

A caddy clinic will be held each Wednesday at 9 a.m., with caddies sporting an "A" rating receiving free golf privileges on Monday and free instructions.

Washington (AP) — Detroit pounced on Fred Sanford for six runs in the first inning and defeated Washington, 7-3 last night. George Kell and Dick Kryhoski, with three hits each, paced the Tigers' 11-hit attack.

Ted Gray required relief from Hal White in the eighth inning but won his third decision. Sanford, recently acquired by the Senators from the Yankees, was dealt his fourth loss against one victory.

Hit Hard — Sanford was mauled for five hits in the first inning. Johnny Groth walked, and after Jerry Priddy struck out, Kell singled. Vic Wertz's single scored Groth and Pat Mullin's double produced another run. Kryhoski was passed intentionally to fill the bases and after Aaron Robinson popped out, Johnny Lipon doubled, scoring Wertz and Mullin. Gray's single scored Kryhoski and Lipon and sent Sanford out.

The Tigers boosted their lead to 7-0 in the fourth against Sandy Consuegra when Kell singled, moved around to third on a walk and a grounder and scored on Kryhoski's outfield fly.

Washington scored its three runs in the seventh on Irv Noren's double, singles by Mike McCormick, Mickey Vernon and Mike Guerra, plus a walk, a wild pitch and a passed ball.

Moving Toward Possible Match With Taylor

Tom Robbins, medalist in the twenty-eighth annual Shawnee Invitation Golf tournament, opened quest of his first title here yesterday with a convincing eight and six victory over John Dobbs, Bay-side, L.I. The 58-year-old Larchmont, N.Y. par-buster, played steady golf in following up his brilliant first day score of 71 with a clear cut victory in the first round of action.

Ellis Taylor, Delaware State Amateur Champion from Newark, Del., moved into the quarter-final round with Robbins, but Taylor, who shot a 74 in the qualifying round, had a much more difficult task, as he was called upon to go 19 holes with Orin Cerrochini, Oakland Hills, L. I., before winning by a one-cup margin.

Jim Raymond, who fired a 73 during the qualifying round, was dropped from the tournament yesterday by Gerald Peet, veteran campaigner from Easton. Peet won by a six and five count.

Other Results — Dr. Ben Pastorini, New York, took the measure of Bill Harmony, Scarsdale, N. Y., by a four and three margin, while Tom Baches, Titusville, N. J., scored one-up decision over John Dimmick, Binghamton, N. Y., but once again it required 19 holes to decide the match.

Frank Allan, West Pittston, eliminated Don Strafaci, New York, by a four and three count, while Don Allan, also of West Pittston, was defeated by George Benish, New York, two and one. The final championship flight match featured Lionel McDuff, Lynn, Mass., a one-up victory over Allentown's "Stew" Jenkinson.

Two rounds are on tap today, the morning action beginning at 9, and featuring Robbins against McDuff; Taylor meeting Pastorini; Peet playing Baches and Allan clashing with Benish. The semifinal round will be held this afternoon and the final struggle tomorrow morning.

In addition to the championship flight, eight other flights are being featured in this year's Invitation program.

Ralph "Pete" Arnold, Stroudsburg, playing in the second flight, won over John Van Vechten, by a three and two count, but all the other local entries went down to defeat.

The list of the local defeated included Augie Lockwitch, Joe Barnes and Bill Nixon, all of Stroudsburg, and Walt Peeney and Larry Ross, both of East Stroudsburg. Only six local entries were in the field.

Pocono A.C. Home Tomorrow

Johnsonville To Provide Opposition

Pocono A.C. will go in search of its tenth Blue Mountain league victory of the season tomorrow, when the charges of Manager John Schoonover take on Johnsonville, currently holding the fort in the circuit's basement. The contest, to be held at Gordon Giffels field, will get underway at 2:30 p.m.

Ray Stelle, one-hit victor over Portland last Sunday, will again be the rubber for the number two club in the standings, as he attempts to win his second start for the A.C. contingent.

The infield will find Danny Eppley at first base, Dewey Martling, second base, Jimmy Werkheiser, shortstop, and Tom "Elmer" Bonser at third base. John Drews will again occupy his familiar catching position.

Manager Schoonover announced last night that plans had been completed for an exhibition with the Washington club, of the Tri-County League. The game will be played on Tuesday night, at Giffels field, with the starting time set for 8:30.

Washington is currently tied for first place in the circuit, sharing the top berth with Riegel Ridge. Both teams are sporting records of nine wins and three setbacks, while at the present time Pocono A.C. has an identical mark of nine marks on the winning side of the ledger and three in the losing column.

In addition to the Pocono A.C.-Johnsonville encounter, three other contests will be on the Blue Mountain League agenda tomorrow, all beginning at 2:30 p.m.

Roseto and East Bangor will engage in an important battle on the latter's home field, while Portland plays host to Tatamy, as the Apollos attempt to move forward once again. The last, but far from least, contest on tomorrow's agenda will send Stockton against West Bangor, at Bangor's Memorial Park.

Mays Slams Three-Run Homer In Tenth Frame As Giants Gain Decision Over Chicago, 9-6

Chicago (AP) — Rookie Willie Mays broke up a see-saw struggle with a three-run homer in the tenth inning yesterday to give the New York Giants a 9-6 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

The lean Negro flycatcher, with the Giants less than a month, connected off the veteran "Dutch" Leonard. Singles by "Whitey" Lockman and Ray Noble preceded

Circuit Blows
The Cubs had tied the game 6-6 in the ninth inning when Hal Jeffcoat hit a two-run homer off reliever George Spencer, who gained his fourth victory when Mays connected.

Monte Irvin and Billy Rigney also smacked homers for the Giants, who snapped a modest two-game losing streak. Irvin's belt, a three-run job, capped a five-run fourth inning that overcame a 3-0 Chicago lead.

The Cubs had belted starter Sal Maglie for four hits and three runs in the third inning.

Mountain Loop In Full Slate

Five games are on the agenda of the Pocono Mountain Baseball league tomorrow, with all playing an important part in the final standing of the circuit. In each case the game began at 2 p.m.

Kunkletown, with six victories and no defeats, will put its perfect record on the line against Anokim, on the latter's home field in Henryville.

Tough Task
Lake Harmony and Pocono Lake will attempt to improve their second division standing at the expense of one another, but only one can turn the trick, as the two clubs clash on the Tobyhanna Township High school field.

Tannersville will see action at Saylorsburg, while Reenders and Tobyhanna clash on the latter's home field, at Coolbaugh High school.

The last, but not least, game on tomorrow's agenda will send Barrett against West End A.C., on the latter's home diamond, in Gilbert. This same circuit will feature a full schedule next Sunday also.

Rain Halts Play In Little League

Rain halted action in both the Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg Little Leagues last night, at the Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg Playgrounds respectively.

Scores
The National Bank held a 6-3 lead over People's Coal Co. when the rains came at the end of the second inning in the Stroudsburg League, while Cramer's Lumber Co. held a 3-2 edge over the East Stroudsburg National Bank, before the East Stroudsburg contest was halted by rain at the end of the third inning.

Widely Sought Criminal Held In Cleveland

Cleveland (AP) —The FBI has nabbed one of the "most wanted" criminals in the land, cop-hating Joseph Paul (Flat Top) Cato of San Francisco.

Cato had been sought for five years on a charge of killing a San Francisco model.

FBI agents and Det. Ins. James McArthur caught up with him Thursday night at the Oliver Corp., an eastside factory, where he was tending a machine.

The 48-year-old prisoner kept insisting yesterday he was not Cato. But Ray J. Abbaticchio Jr., Cleveland FBI chief, said there was no doubt he had his man.

Fingerprints and a scar on the top of his right hand, at the base of the third "ring" finger, tallied with information on the FBI's "man wanted" circular, he said.

Los Angeles authorities want to talk to Cato, too.

In Los Angeles, Ins. Garner Brown said he wanted to question Cato about the shooting from ambush of gambler Mickey Cohen and his pal, Neddie Herbert, in 1949.

Cohen was wounded and Herbert died later. Brown would not say in what way he thought Cato was connected with the shooting.

Cato, who said he hated policemen and never would be taken alive, failed to live up to his threat last night. He surrendered after a brief struggle. He was not armed.

"This man," said Abbaticchio, "is one of the most badly wanted fugitives in the FBI files, even though he is not among our first 10. We've been looking for him for three years on a fugitive warrant and California has looked for him for five."

Cato was charged with shooting Mrs. Phyllis McCullough, 24, a San Francisco model, on March 22, 1946, in a jealous rage.

The FBI said Cato had been going with Mrs. McCullough, who was separated from her husband. He is accused of shooting her be-

Johnston Fears Chain Reaction Price Boosts

Ottawa (AP) —An increase in the price of Canadian newsprint may cause a "chain reaction" boosting the price of other materials, Eric Johnston, U. S. economic stabilization administrator, said yesterday.

He held a news conference, along with Canadian Production Minister C. D. Howe, after confidential discussions by the two aimed at closer Canadian-United States economic collaboration.

Johnston said the U. S. is "concerned" about the $10-a-ton increase in Canadian newsprint but added that he did not discuss that question particularly with Howe.

Generally, he added, he feels that Canada is doing her share to hold the price line against inflation.

He said two other U. S. officials — Charles E. Wilson, defense mobilization director, and a representative of Michael V. DiSalle, price stabilization director — also will visit Ottawa. Both will come here after July 1, the date on which the newsprint boost goes into effect.

On other economic points, Johnston said he feels that the John-Howe eased. Beef prices in the U. S. will be lower under proposed price rollbacks, providing that Congress does not take steps to block the move, he pointed out.

Incode Sees Court Fight Over Water

Philadelphia (AP)—Irving V. A. Huie, president of the New York City board of water supply, told the Interstate Commission on the Delaware River (Incode) yesterday New York must go to the U. S. Supreme court to get water.

Huie said New York City had marked time on getting sufficient water from the Delaware river long enough while waiting for the Pennsylvania Legislature to take action on a pact. But New York can't wait any longer, he said.

New York went to the Supreme court in 1931 and got permission to divert 440,000,000 gallons a day from the Delaware. Huie said he will ask an additional 360,000,000 gallons daily, to give the city a total of 800,000,000 gallons.

New York, New Jersey and Delaware legislatures have acted on a proposed pact apportioning waters of the Delaware river to the various states. The proposal is still before the Pennsylvania Legislature.

Huie said he thought it unlikely Pennsylvania will do anything before 1953 and that will be too late for New York City.

Incode members told Huie his news was not pleasant to hear and they fear independent action by New York City will lead to a long, costly court fight. They expressed hope that in some way action by the Pennsylvania Legislature can be hastened.

Miss Ruth Hussey

Group To Pay Special Honors To Miss Hussey By Attending Play In Body Monday Night

As a tribute to Miss Ruth Hussey, 1951 Laurel Blossom Festival Queen in the Pocono Mountains, who will star in "The Royal Family" at Pocono Playhouse, Mountainhome, a special Pocono Mountains theater party will attend the playhouse Monday night. Tickets are now available at Penn-Stroud hotel, phone 380.

Miss Hussey will play the entire week in "The Royal Family," but the special party, now being set up by Gerald P. O'Neill, president of Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce with an extensive committee, is designed to accord "first night honors" to Miss Hussey.

Mrs. Rowena Stevens, owner-operator of the Playhouse, is also to be suitably honored.

The gracious cooperation of Miss Hussey in agreeing to act as Laurel Queen, and of Mrs. Stevens and her staff for assisting in setting up the Laurel ball and fashion show motivated the idea of theater party by local people.

Mr. O'Neill completed arrangements yesterday for a block of some 100 tickets for the Monday night show. It is expected that all members of the local theater party group will be seated in the same section.

Miss Hussey endeared herself to the 500 persons who attended the Laurel ball at Shawnee inn Wednesday night. Many of these people will be in the Poconos theater party Monday night.

tended the Faustick family reunion held at the Nazareth Park, Sunday were: Mrs. Abbie Faustick, son, Graydon, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Faustick and son, Freddie, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Faustick, Florence Faustick, Lewis Faustick, Mrs. Nettie Bush, Mrs. Vesta Cawley. Officers were elected for the following year and it was decided to hold the reunion at the old Faustick homestead, the home of Lewis Faustick, the third Sunday in June, 1952.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Blue Ridge Hook and Ladder Co., will sponsor a penny supper, Saturday, June 23, at the Fire Hall. Roast turkey, baked ham meat loaf will be featured. This will be the last supper during the summer months.

Recent callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Faustick were: Mrs. Harry Beigel and daughter, Linda, Easton, Mrs. Paul Williams, Bossardsville, Mrs. LeRoy Keller and children, Judy and Frankie, Lewis Faustick.

The prayer meetings which are held every other Wednesday evening have been successful at St. Peter's Evangelical United Brethren church. The public is invited to attend the services.

Two Autos Collide At Intersection

Cars operated by Paul Heller, of Sciota, and Andrew Weingartner, of the Stroudsmoor hotel, Stroudsburg RD 2, collided at 4:05 p. m. yesterday on the sharp uphill grade at Fourth and Fifth Sts. on Sarah St., Stroudsburg.

Chief James McConnell, investigating for borough police, said there were no personal injuries and only slight damages to the two vehicles.

Heller, according to report, was traveling west on Sarah St. at Fifth St. when the Weingartner car struck the left side of his machine. Weingartner had approached the Fourth and Fifth St. region of Sarah St. from Fourth, and was making the short swing from the top of Fourth to the Fifth St. intersection when the accident occurred.

The right side of the Weingartner bumper caught the left side of Heller's car, Chief McConnell said, tearing the left front fender and then pulling the two machines together.
